TAFT ALLAYS PUBLIC DREAD

Only Necessary Material for Canal to Be Bought at Present.

LEFT TO CONGRESS

The Commission Will Not Stock Up on Supplies Until Instructed by Law.

DALZELL TALKS ON TARIFF

As a result of the popular protest against the announced policy of the administration to buy ships and material for the construction of the canal in the markets of the world instead of buying from home industries, the commission has decided to go slow with the execution of this policy. Ships needed for the transportation of supplies to the isthmus will be chartered for the present, instead of bought outright, and no large orders of any kind, unless it is for things that are needed immediately, will be placed.

This decision does not mean that the president and Secretary Taft have in degree changed the policy recently announced to govern purchases for the canal work, it being explained that they do not intend to take advantage of the present situation by stocking up heavily in material and ships in anticipation of restrictive legislation by congress at its next session.

This news was permitted to filter out to the public from semi-official sources after the cabinet meeting had adjourned. Speaker Cannon had a talk with Secretary Taft today and that may have been at least partially responsible for this hedging.

Congress Will Take Action.

The fact is that while the administration will stand to its guns in this matter, nothing will be done to any extent towards putting it into effect until after congress meets in the fall. One of the first bills to be introduced as soon as congress assembles will be a measure instructing the canal commission to use only American products in the building of the canal. That such a bill will be rushed through there is no doubt. In this way the administration will be relieved of all responsibility in the matter and will not need to strain its conscience by patronizing home markets.

There are many who believe that the principal object of the president and Secretary Taft in announcing this policy was to force congress to take such action as this. When the act was passed authorizing the president to go ahead and build the canal it gave him full swing and placed all the responsibility upon his shoulders. This may have caused him to hesitate about patronizing home industries when he could buy cheaper abroad. There are many other people who attribute the canal commission's policy to a desire on the part of the president to force congress to take action on the tariff question.

Purely a Matter of Business.

Representative John Dalzell, while opposing the policy of the administration in this matter, does not believe that there was any such intention in promulgating it. When asked for his opinion on the matter today he said:

From the best information I have the matter of purchasing supplies for the Panama canal is regarded by the administration as a purely business question and has no relation at all to the agitation for tariff legislation. I do not believe the situation with respect to the proposition for tariff legislation has been altered in the least by this announced Panama policy. It is perfectly patent that it does not afford any reason for a change in sentiment with respect to our present tariff laws, and in my judgment the action of congress on the tariff will be precisely the same as it would have been if this announcement of policy had not been made.

It is useless to talk about tariff revision because of an apparent deficit in our revenues, for the reason that any change in schedules is just as likely to produce an increase of the deficit as the contrary. No Republican will advocate a reduction of tariff duties for the purpose of increasing the revenues, because that could be done only by substituting the products of foreign labor for those of home labor, to the manifest disadvantage of our workingmen, who are more interested in the protective system than anybody else.

Excitement Is Premature.

With respect to the fears entertained because of the present excess of expenditures over receipts, I think any excitement on this subject is premature. A nation that has a surplus of available assets in the neighborhood of $129,000,000 may well wait until it ascertains whether or not in the years to come there is likely to be a deficit, and if so, what causes produce it. The manifest remedy for existing conditions, so far as revenue is concerned, is to curtail expenses. Anyone familiar with the expenses of our government knows that we are spending vast sums of money for things that are not absolutely necessary, and that a systematic economy in expenses would very soon reduce, if not wholly get rid of, any deficit.

I am clearly convinced that the fear of a deficit does not justify any tariff legislation and I doubt very much whether it justifies any change in our internal revenue system. At least not until after it has been made apparent that our receipts will not adjust themselves to expenditures economically made. It is time enough to talk about additional taxes when we find out that they are absolutely necessary.

As to the policy of a maximum and minimum tariff, I confess that I am not altogether clear. That is a matter I have given some thought and intend more fully to consider. When you talk about Germany or any other country putting a prohibitive tariff on our products, it becomes essential to inquire what products they buy from us and whether they can get along without them. An excessive tariff upon such of our products by any foreign country as the people of that country must have will not inure to our disadvantage, but to the disadvantage of the people of that particular country. It seems to me that a retaliatory tariff is a matter to be considered not in a general way, but with reference to the particular case in which it may become necessary.

TO BE A FEDERAL JUDGE

Louis Emory McComas, of Maryland.

President Roosevelt yesterday announced he would appoint former Senator Louis Emory McComas of Maryland, as justice of the District of Columbia court of appeals, to succeed Justice Martin F. Morris, who has indicated his intention to retire. Mr. McComas served four years in the national house of representatives from Maryland and one term in the United States senate, retiring last March. In 1892 he was appointed by President Harrison as associate justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, which office he held until he was elected to the senate, defeating Senator Gorman.

BOMB KILLS SOCIALIST AND THREE DETECTIVES

The Pole Evidently Waiting to Murder Official—Twenty-Three Persons Injured.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WARSAW, RUSSIAN POLAND, May 19.—A workman, who was trying to avoid the observation of two detectives in Mlodowa street at noon today, stumbled on the curb of the sidewalk and a bomb which he was carrying in his pocket exploded, killing the workman, both the detectives and injured 23 persons, there being three women, one student and two school boys among them, who were passing by. It is believed the bomb was intended for Gov.-Gen. Maximovitch, who was expected to pass the spot on his way home from the cathedral, where he attended the service in honor of the czar's birthday.

The bodies of the victims were literally blown to pieces. A cafe near the scene of the explosion was entirely demolished, all the windows in the neighborhood were smashed and a lamp post was torn out of the ground.

One of the wounded school boys is detained at the police station, having been noticed warning people against going into Mlodowa street.

The man who was carrying the bomb has now been identified as a Polish shoemaker named Dobrowolski, a member of the violent section of the Socialists.

GETS GHASTLY WARNING.

Wealthy Italian in Turtle Creek Valley Receives Letter With Black Hand for Signature.

Joseph Maresenia, one of the wealthiest Italians in the Turtle Creek valley and a leader among his people, has been marked by the Black Hand society. On Wednesday he received a letter written in three languages, stating unless he left this vicinity within 30 days he would be killed. Maresenia is alarmed, but has decided to continue his residence at Millerstown, about two miles north of Turtle Creek, where he conducts a general store.

Maresenia thinks the letter was written by a number of his countrymen who are jealous of his success and desire to drive him away in order that they might engage in business at Millerstown. The letter has been turned over to a detective agency.

NO RACERS ARE SIGHTED.

It Is Believed All the Yachts Passed Nantucket Lightship in Fog, the Valhalla Last.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 19.—No craft resembling any of the fleet of 11 yachts sailing from Sandy Hook to the Lizard for the trophy offered by the emperor of Germany has been sighted by the Nantucket lightship since last midnight, when a white, square-rigged vessel, believed to be the earl of Crawford's Valhalla, was seen.

It is believed that all of the yachts passed the lightship in the fog that prevailed yesterday and last night and that the Valhalla was the last to pass. Tonight at 9:30 o'clock there was a favorable breeze for the racers.

BRADDOCK BOY SHOT BY AN UNKNOWN YOUTH

While Charles Boling, 13 years old, of Braddock, was returning home last night from the North Braddock High school commencement exercises he was shot by an unknown boy who ran out of an alley into Camp avenue. The bullet struck young Boling in the left leg. Dr. C. H. Westgate dressed the wound and removed the bullet. Four companions of Boling fled when the shot was fired, and no one could describe the assailant.

MORTON WILL LEAVE CABINET BY JULY 1

The Navy Portfolio May Go to Either Secretary Metcalf or T. H. Newberry.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Paul Morton, secretary of the navy, desires to leave public life as soon as possible and by July 1 he will have relinquished his present post to some other man and will in all probability have gone to Europe for a brief vacation. Mr. Morton is now weighing the respective advantages of at least four important positions in business life which have been offered to him. Not all of these are railroad positions.

Who Mr. Morton's successor will be is not yet decided. Victor H. Metcalf of California, secretary of commerce and labor, has been mentioned. Mr. Metcalf would have been secretary of the navy last summer had President Roosevelt not given Secretary Morton his choice of commerce and labor or the navy portfolio. If Mr. Metcalf doesn't get the navy post he will in all probability retire from public life. He is not a wealthy man. The expenses of official position in Washington entirely exceed the salaries.

T. H. Newberry, whom President Roosevelt has asked to become assistant secretary of the navy, has also been mentioned as Mr. Morton's successor. He is a millionaire and his home is Detroit, Mich.

WOMAN AND LITTLE ONES VICTIMS OF ASPHYXIATION

Wilkinsburg Man's Two Children and Their Grandmother Perish in Newark, New Jersey.

Mrs. Margaret C. Orr, aged 56, and her two grandchildren, Margaret and Annie Smith, aged 12 and 8, respectively, were asphyxiated by illuminating gas in the Orr home, North Negley street, Newark, N. J., early yesterday morning. The children were daughters of Thomas Smith of Wilkinsburg, superintendent of machinists at the East Pittsburgh works of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company. Telegrams announcing the accident were received by Mr. Smith yesterday afternoon and, in company with Councilman William Orr of Franklin street, Bessemer Terrace, East Pittsburgh, and Mrs. John McGill of Twenty-first street, Homestead, son and daughter of Mrs. Orr, he left for Newark last night.

The messages announcing the death of Mrs. Orr and the two children contained no details of the catastrophe, but at the home of William Orr last night it was stated that the gas had only recently been piped into the Orr home in Newark, and it is thought that the accident was caused through their unfamiliarity with it.

Mr. Smith lived in Newark before coming to East Pittsburgh, where his wife died in 1897, after which the two children were taken to their grandmother in Newark. Mr. Smith recently married again and now resides in Wilkinsburg. William Orr received a letter from his mother on Monday last, in which she stated she was arranging to bring the children to visit the members of the family in this vicinity.

BROTHERS TO BE REUNITED.

Man Said to Live in Allegheny Goes to Findlay (O.) Seeking a Relative.

FINDLAY, O., May 19.—(Special.)—After a separation of 40 years, C. M. Marks of this city, and his brother Edwin, now living in Allegheny, Pa., will be reunited. Edwin, who is a grocer, arrived here today. Ever since the war he has been trying to find his elder brother, who left home to enter the army as a drummer boy. He recently located him through the pension department at Washington and traced him to Findlay. C. M. Marks is in West Virginia, but has been wired to return at once.

CHINA TURNS UPON TREATY

Strong Opposition to Exclusion Policy of the United States.

THREATEN BOYCOTT

Merchants of the Celestial Empire Would Retaliate on American Goods.

NEGOTIATIONS UNSUCCESSFUL

China has turned upon the Chinese exclusion policy of the United States. The threat of the commercial gulids in Shanghai to boycott American products unless a more liberal policy is adopted concerning the immigration of Chinese other than coolies is described at the legation here as a demonstration of the highest importance. It is considered especially menacing to the American cotton goods trade in China, amounting to more than $20,000,000 a year.

China is authoritatively declared insistent that no restrictions which are not placed on the subjects of other countries be placed upon the Chinese. China's backbone in regard to the exclusion policy has been materially stiffened since the return to Peking of Wu Ting Fang, former Chinese minister here.

Sir Chentung Lieng Cheng, the present minister, declines to be interviewed on this question, but it is known that the Chinese government takes the ground that it can recognize the validity of no law discriminating against Chinese, which is not embodied in treaty relations with the American government. It holds that by expiration of the treaty of 1894, on December 8, 1904, the treaty relations revert to the treaty of 1880. If by any reason, although China recognizes the existence of none, the treaty of 1880 has expired, treaty relations between the two governments then revert to the Burlingame treaty of 1868, which put no restriction whatever upon immigration.

All hope of the success of the pending negotiations of the new Chinese exclusion treaty has for the present been abandoned by the Chinese officials as a result of the wave of resentment that has swept over China since it became known that it was planned to transfer the negotiations to Pekin and that the department of commerce and labor was insisting upon its own interpretation of the exclusion law. Reports have reached the Chinese legation of the extent of this feeling throughout the Chinese empire and of the hostility of the Chinese commercial guilds to American goods, which might result, it is asserted, in a general boycott against American products even were it possible to conclude the exclusion treaty now.

The Chinese legation here declares that there is no intention of bringing suit in the supreme court of the United States in behalf of Chinese excluded or deported in violation of the treaty of 1888. All such infringements of that treaty the legation holds to be diplomatic matters entirely and an appeal will be had not to the courts but to the state department.

The first claim for damages reached the legation today from a Chinese merchant arrested in Seattle, and is now being investigated. Gen. John W. Foster, former secretary of state, and for a long time the advisor of the Chinese legation, will give the minister much counsel in the adjustment of these difficult questions as he may wish.

Sir Chentung Liang Cheng expresses keen regret that affairs have taken this turn. It was the hope of the minister and of Secretary Hay that the fact that Mr. Rockhill was to take up the matter in Pekin would be kept quiet, but this news has reached China. The opposition of the Chinese to this proposed move, it is pointed out here, arises from their belief that the minister at Washington is far more capable of knowing the wishes of the Chinese to this proposed move, their own government and that in negotiating an immigration treaty with the American minister at Pekin the Chinese negotiators would be at great disadvantage.

Coal in Greene County Sold.

WAYNESBURG, May 19.—(Special.)—A block of 1,455 acres of coal land in Morgan township has been purchased by Waynesburg and Uniontown capitalists at $140 and $145 an acre. The amounts aggregate $207,000. Two hundred and twenty-seven acres of surface and coal owned by the J. M. Bell estate near here has been bought by E. I. Denny at $150 an acre.

SCHWAB WILL NOT TALK OF CONTRACT

Passengers on Baltic Believe He Failed—Steel Man Reaches New York.

HE SHOCKS ROCKEFELLER, JR.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, May 19.

Nearly 24 hours behind her schedule, the big White Star liner Baltic warped into her dock at 10:30 o'clock today. Among the first of the 389 first-class passengers to leave the steamship were Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab. As the steel man came down the gangplank he was surrounded by a curious crowd.

"Have you entered into a contract with Czar Nicholas to build 10 warships at a cost of about $100,000,000?" was the first question put to him.

The smile that had illumined his face suddenly disappeared, and he said: "I will not be interviewed at this time on that matter. I have not said anything for publication, and I will not. The report sent out from the other side that I had expressed myself is not true. All I have to say for publication is that I had a good time and am glad to get back."

The other passengers on the Baltic were free in discussing the interests of the steel man. One of them said: "I do not want my name mentioned, but the report was current among the fellow-passengers of Mr. Schwab that he failed in his mission. However, he was heard to say to a friend who greeted him: 'The finest ever. Everything came my way.' Nevertheless, it was the general opinion among those who knew him that he did not succeed in getting that contract."

An amusing story was told by Mr. Schwab to a friend who went down the bay to meet him. To this friend he said that while abroad he met John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Mr. Rockefeller told him that he was not feeling well, was run down, and was taking a vacation.

"You want to cheer up, John," Mr. Schwab is said to have told Mr. Rockefeller. "Have a good time. Let other people save their own souls for a while."

This remark did not please Mr. Rockefeller, apparently. He is said to have made the rejoinder: "Why, Mr. Schwab!"

MOTHER TAKES GROOM HOME TO JEANNETTE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., May 19.—John G. Brisbane and Hugh Hill, two young students of Jeannette, Pa., who were graduated with honors from the Homeopathic Medical college here Wednesday night, Miss Edna A. Walthour, formerly of Jeannette, and Miss Alice Allen of Pittsburgh, who is living temporarily in Cleveland, figured in a double romance at the Herrick hotel in this city today.

Hill and Miss Allen were married Thursday at Elyria and Brisbane and Miss Walthour were married today. They intended to keep the news from their mothers, who are in the city attending graduation exercises, but Brisbane told and when the mothers got together they decided on drastic action.

Accordingly Mrs. Hill left tonight with her son for Jeannette and the bride, finding herself deserted, soon packed up her belongings and started for her home in Pittsburgh. Brisbane wouldn't be moved by threats of his mother to cut him off without a share of her money. He got a position as house physician at Huron street hospital and his bride is going back to Jeannette until Brisbane is in a position to support her.

NEGROES ASK TO COME IN

Black Brethren Throw Bombshell Into the General Assembly.

MAKE AN OVERTURE

Justice Harlan's Cathedral Plan Is Regarded by the Presbyterians as Impracticable.

NEW WORK FOR DR. CALHOUN

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM The Rev. S. S. Gibson, Staff Correspondent

WINONA LAKE, May 19.—A bombshell was thrown into the Presbyterian general assembly tonight by the reception of a telegram from the Colored Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly, in session at Huntsville, Ala., announcing they had appointed a committee of seven to confer with a like committee of this assembly to accomplish the union of the two bodies. The move is thought to have been inspired by the enemies of union with the Cumberland Presbyterian churches.

The assembly today heard the reports of 18 special committees. A movement is in progress to reduce this number, as their great increase has become a drain on the treasury of the church. There is always an abundant supply of the men willing to serve on committees, as delightful trips and entertainment are assured. The number had been reduced to three at the last meeting of the assembly at Winona Lake in 1898, but it has grown steadily from that time until it has now reached its present proportions.

Owing to the brewing storm over the subject of a ritual service for the church, on request of the Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke the hearing of the report was postponed until next Friday, when the discussion, sure to be warm, will take place. A subject akin was introduced today when the special committee on the forward movement in Christian education recommended a book for family worship be prepared. A dozen new men at once opposed the proposition and it was defeated.

Cathedral Plan Impracticable.

An ecclesiastical row was averted by the arrival of the time for Justice John M. Harlin to introduce his plan for a "cathedral" in Washington City. He outlined his project as presented in the circular note sent to 300 pastors in all parts of the United States. Some men had encouraged him. The matter will be courteously handled out of regard to Justice Harlan. It will be ultimately referred to the presbytery at Washington City, where it will at once encounter opposition. The Rev. Dr. William C. Alexander, commissioner from that presbytery, declares the project is impracticable. The memorial was for the time being referred to the committee on bills and overtures. A letter was read from the Rev. Dr. Francis L. Patton, president of Princeton Theological seminary, indorsing the scheme.

The Rev. Dr. Duncan J. McMillan of New York favors building a Presbyterian hall in Washington City as a permanent place of meeting for the general assembly. It was found today that this is the largest assembly ever held by the church. It enrolls over 700 commissioners. The Rev. Dr. Solomon C. Dickey, president of the Winona association, presented the new moderator with the largest gavel ever given that official.

Justice John M. Harlan was formally announced as vice moderator, and in making his inaugural address said:

"The only office which this resembles is that of vice president of the United States, whose whole business is to dress in black, look wise and say nothing."

Cordial church salutations were received from the Cumberland Presbyterian and Southern Presbyterian general assemblies and were reciprocated.

Converse's Generous Gifts.

John H. Converse of Philadelphia, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works, presided at the opening services of the assembly this morning. The leading address was made by the Rev. Dr. John Balcom Shaw of Chicago. Mr. Converse has given $200,000 to the evangelistic work of the church, and has promised $50,000 for the year to come. He has also given the Rev. Dr. Herrick Johnston of New York $8,000 to make an evangelistic tour among the foreign missionaries around the world.

The report of the evangelistic committee was made accompanied with an address by Dr. Shaw. The committee began today to plan a national campaign. The Rev. Dr. Joseph Painter Calhoun of Pittsburgh will probably be invited to work next year as the arranging agent of the new evangelistic committee not yet organized, which will make it necessary for him to resign his pastorate in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Converse presented the annual report, telling of many revivals during the year. He was followed in a long address by the Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman. "Onward Christian Soldiers," was sung, and for a time there were modest revival scenes.

Dr. Baker of Oakland, Cal., described the California revivals, and the Rev. Dr. Robert Coyle These of Denver vigorously attacked sectarianism. The corner stone of the new Presbyterian church was laid this afternoon, followed by a meeting of about 50 old soldiers, under the leadership of Justice Harlan.

The closing and unusual event of the day was the presentation to John H. Converse of a loving cup from the assembly. On behalf of the 20 members of the evangelistic committee, the cup was presented by the Rev. Dr. Johnston. The reply of Mr. Converse was made to the standing assembly. No such incident ever before occurred in the 200 years of the assembly's history.

The Rev. Matthew Rutherford of Washington, Pa., has been appointed one of the temporary clerks of the assembly. Robert Wardrop of Pittsburgh was today appointed chairman of the assembly's committee on finance. Chairmen of the other standing committees were named as follows:

Bills and overtures, Cleveland B. McAfee, Brooklyn, N. Y.; judicial, Henry E. Minton, Trenton, N. J.; polity, Stephen Phelps Essex, Ia.; home missions, John T. Hendy, Jefferson City, Mo.; foreign missions, George M. Lovejoy, Oak Park, Ill.; education, E. W. Pense, Detroit; publication, W. Y. Chapin, Buffalo; church erection, John C. Hill, Columbus, O.; theological seminaries, J. A. Marquis, Redlands, Cal.; ministerial relief, T. C. Kirkwood, Colorado Springs, Col.; freedmen, R. S. Inglis, Newark, N. J.; aid for colleges, J. F. Devine, New York; correspondence, A. H. Yunstock, Syracuse, N. Y.; benevolence, John W. Day, Des Moines, Ia.; temperance, W. C. Alexander, Washington, D. C.; Young People's societies, Mark A. Matthews, Seattle, Wash.

The committee on marriage and divorce urged that the rule that ministers refuse to perform marriage ceremonies between divorced people unless the causes for the divorce are scriptural, be continued. In this event one year should elapse between the granting of the divorce and the marriage ceremony. The committee was continued.

The committee on Sabbath observance urged that all forms of sports and railroad excursions be abolished on the Sabbath, that Presbyterians refuse to subscribe for Sunday newspapers and that in April next each minister preach a sermon on Sabbath observance.

The committee on Christian work among seamen asked that more chaplains be secured for the navy.

The committee on church co-operation and union submitted a plan for uniting with the Reformed Presbyterian church. Under the plan the Reformed church is not to disavow any of its former principles, and the assembly is to appoint a committee of 12 elders and ministers, six from each church, to carry out the details of the union.

The committee on the digest of the acts of the general assembly asked to be continued. The committee on sustentation reported a plan for caring for aged or disabled ministers, and asked to be continued.

The Woman's Board of Home Missions began its annual meeting today. Mrs. Darwin D. James of Chicago, and Justice John M. Harlan of the United States supreme court and several missionaries spoke. Receipts for the year amounted to $478,042.

General Synod of the Reformed Church Adopts Resolutions—Other Business Is Transacted.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ALLENTOWN, May 19.—The general synod of the Reformed church today adopted resolutions expressing its appreciation of the honor conferred by Emperor William in inviting its president, the Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh of Pittsburgh, to the dedication of the Berlin cathedral.

The lengthy discussion which has been indulged in by the synod on the point whether the church shall have the Presbyterian or Congregational form of government was settled today. Dr. G. W. Richards, for the committee on new constitution, reported an article that classes shall rearrange charges only after counselling with the consistories of charges affected. Dr. Phillip Vollmer submitted an amendment making the action of a classis final only by a two-thirds vote. This amendment was accepted by Dr. Richards and carried almost unanimously.

At the request of the German synod of the East Reformed church the general synod at the afternoon session rescinded its action taken at the Baltimore session in 1902 disavowing recognition of a sermon preached by its president as an official, authoritative expression of theological statement. It was generally agreed that this resolution, adopted in view of President Calvin S. Gerhard's sermon in 1902, was too sweeping and drastic.

The synod referred to a special committee the appeal of the Rev. Dr. Henry M. Kieffer against being ousted from the pulpit of the First church, Easton, Pa., by the East Pennsylvania classis and that of the Rev. Nevin W. Heiffrich of Allentown, against having his charge divided by the Lehigh classis.

An overture to take such action as would result in organic union with the Dutch Reformed church and other similar denominations was referred to committee.

CHURCH WILL BLACKLIST OPPRESSIVE RICH MEN

SIOUX CITY, May 19.—Great financiers who achieve wealth by oppressive and unscrupulous methods will be blacklisted, and no more funds will be sought of them by the Congregational church, according to Dr. Washington Gladden, who was interviewed at length on this theme while attending the state convention of his church today. Dr. Gladden says their money will not only not be solicited but will be rejected when tendered.

LEAGUE LAWYERS LEAVE THE CITY

Appeal in Grant Boulevard Case to Supreme Court Is Expected Today.

LAST DAY OF THE TIME LIMIT

The Voters' Civic league is expected to go before the state supreme court in Philadelphia today and appeal from the decision of the Allegheny county court ordering the league to file the names of Pittsburgh councilmen alleged to have been corrupted to vote for the Grant boulevard franchise.

Today is the last day that the county court allowed the Voters' Civic league to file the names of the councilmen. Last night it was learned that A. Leo Weil and S. W. Childs, attorneys for the league, had gone to Philadelphia, where the supreme court is sitting, and the conclusion was at once reached that their presence in Philadelphia on the very day when they are expected to make answer to the local court was to take an appeal.

The attorneys for the league had three courses open to them. One was to comply with the order of the county court and file a bill of particulars giving the names of the councilmen alleged to have been corrupted. The other two were to amend their petition by striking out the allegation that councilmen were corrupted or as it appears they intend to do today, go before the supreme court and take an appeal.

This course means that the league does not intend to "back down," but intends to go ahead and fight the case through. When the attorneys for the defendants in the boulevard suit asked the local court for the names of the councilmen the attorneys for the league contended that if they were required to give these names it would injure their case, intimating that these councilmen might not be on hand when the case is called in court.

Notwithstanding their objections the court granted the order demanding the names, and for more than a week past there has been deep anxiety manifested among some members and ex-members of councils. They were looking forward to today when they expected the league would either file the names or else admit that it was unable to sustain the charges of corruption.

One of the few members of councils who has not been served with a subpoena is Select Councilman John Costello, chairman of the corporations committee which affirmatively recommended the boulevard ordinance to councils after a hot fight over the bill in committee. "I have not been subpoenaed but I am ready to go into court and testify if wanted, although I have no knowledge of any corruption," said he yesterday.

CHURCH UNION REPORTS ARE UP FOR A HEARING

Southern Presbyterians and Cumberland Body Both Refer Question to Special Committees.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

FORT WORTH, TEX., May 19.—The report of the committee on federation of the Reformed and Presbyterian churches was read before the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church here today. It recommended the appointment of a committee to confer with similar committees from other churches as to what will be best to do in the premises.

The report will be referred to a committee to be designated by Moderator Plunkett, and empowered to report back to the assembly its recommendation on the question.

FRESNO, CAL., May 19.—The Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly today referred the returns of the vote on union to a special committee, with instructions to canvass the vote and present a full report at noon tomorrow.

ANDERSON IS BEATEN.

John H. Fitch Secures Control of Republican Committee in Mahoning County, Ohio.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 19.—(Special.)—At the meeting of the Republican county committee this afternoon, it was decided to return to the convention plan of making nominations, abandoning the Crawford county system used for six years. It was a victory for the country delegates. D. F. Anderson, who has for two years controlled the county committee, was decisively beaten by John H. Fitch. S. S. Conroy was elected chairman, and Richard Shale secretary.

Tomorrow the convention will be held to select delegates to the state convention. I. U. Hulin is the Anderson candidate for chairman of the convention and S. D. L. Jackson is supported by Fitch.

THROWN FROM RUNAWAY CAR

Edward N. Kline of Braddock is Dying. Edward Vorwerck Hurt at Esplen.

Edward N. Kline, aged 21, of 810 Corey avenue, Braddock, is dying at Mercy hospital from concussion of the brain, caused by being thrown from a runaway street car at the curve at the Bessemer terrace bridge over Dookers hollow. The accident happened yesterday morning. Six others were also hurled from the running board.

Edward Vorwerck, a painter of Esplen, is suffering with the fracture of two ribs, caused by his being crushed between a street car and a wagon. He was riding on the running board.

Following up an unheeded borough ordinance, Burgess William Zinkhan of McKees Rocks has issued notices to conductors and motormen that cars must not be run faster than 12 miles an hour within the borough limits.

MAY ESTABLISH HOME FOR AGED MEMBERS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 19.—The national convention of the Royal Arcanum today took up a proposition offered by the Pennsylvania delegation, which asked that it be given authority to create a home for aged and indigent members of the order. This would carry with it an extra power to levy a state tax upon members, to maintain the home. The proposition is in doubt, as the Massachusetts charter secured by the order may not permit it.

RAILROAD CUTS DOWN TREES IN SOUTH PARK

All the trees in South park, Allegheny, west of Federal street, were cut down yesterday by employes of the Pennsylvania Company. The action was unexpected. It is stated, and Director Mellvain of the Allegheny department of public works will confer with City Solicitor Porter and the officers of the Allegheny Protective association on the subject. Under orders Superintendent William Hamilton of the Allegheny parks made measurements of the trees cut down and reported to Director Mellvain.

NORTH SIDE VICE TO BE CRUSHED

The Allegheny Federation of Churches Adopts Policy of Its Own to Do the Job.

DR. WOODBURN'S SPEECH

The Allegheny Federation of Churches declared last night in favor of nonpartisanship in city affairs and adopted a plan to interest all voters, irrespective of party, in its movement to secure good government for Allegheny. It adopted a series of resolutions condemning the prevalence of disorderly houses, gambling dens and speakeasies on the North Side, and spared neither the present nor preceding administrations.

The meeting was noteworthy for an announcement made by Dr. S. S. Woodburn, who said that of all the men who started the anti-graft investigation and prosecutions in Allegheny, he alone stood by his guns. His partners, he said, had deserted him and the movement was now in the hands of the federation. Dr. Woodburn's statement was brought out by an accidental reference to the graft investigation made by a member of the federation.

The Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton is president of the federation, but he was delayed in arriving and the meeting was opened by the Rev. Dr. A. J. Bonsall. The meeting was held in the chapel of the United Presbyterian Theological seminary in North avenue.

Object of the Federation.

The Rev. Dr. D. A. McClenaghan and Harvey Henderson, a sub-committee of the executive, presented a plea for the formation of auxiliaries to the federation and a circular letter, copies of which have been sent out to the citizens of Allegheny. The circular explains it is the object of the federation to organize a compact body of voters, who will act as a unit to defeat bad candidates and vote only for men who are in sympathy with the objects of the federation. The adoption of the executive committee's report commits the federation to the policy expressed in the circular.

Harvey Henderson made a speech in which he said that the "partnership between the city government and the elements that congregate in disorderly houses and gambling dens" should be broken up. It was an anomaly that such a partnership could exist in a Christian community like Allegheny.

It was proposed to hold a public meeting, and after some discussion, for lack of an available hall, the matter was left with the executive committee. Dr. Woodburn said he thought a large hall ought to be engaged; that John Marron and John C. Haymaker would be willing to speak at the meeting. At this point Mr. Henderson arose:

Opposed to Graft Prosecution.

"If this meeting is to be used to confound this movement with the graft prosecution and its methods I wish emphatically to protest," said Mr. Henderson. "The graft prosecutions were not brought to extinguish vice in Allegheny; they were brought for an entirely different purpose. The women prosecuted were not prosecuted because they were running disorderly houses, but incidentally to reach some other end."

A member of the federation made some remarks amplifying the fact Mr. Henderson said, and Mr. Woodburn, who had run for mayor on the Republican ticket against Mayor Wyman, jumped to his feet and said:

That is a personal slap at me, if I choose to take it up. Of all the originators of the anti-graft movement I am the only one remaining. I went into it not for political purposes. Why should I do anything for political purposes? In goodness name, how much of a politician am I? Does any one of you believe that I expected to be elected when I accepted the nomination for mayor? Does any one of you believe I thought there were enough decent people in Allegheny who would go to the polls to elect me?

Says He Has Been Deserted.

I admit that people who were with me when the movement started went into it for certain purposes. When those purposes were accomplished they dropped out, so far as I know, so that I am now the only mover left. I went to Dr. Eaton last February. You understood me, doctor, did you not (turning to Dr. Eaton) to say that I had been deserted? (Dr. Eaton nodded.) Then I turned the movement over to others and this federation was the result. This movement is with you. If you are proud of your big tenderloin, if you want to keep it, then keep it. But even if you want to keep it, the movement will go on without you. John Marron and John Haymaker shook hands and said they would continue the movement to the bitter end, if there wasn't a dollar in it for them.

Then Mr. Henderson explained that he had not referred to Dr. Woodburn. Dr. Eaton then presented resolutions laying stress upon the enforcement of the law. These were adopted.

TWENTY-THIRD VICTIM OF THE WRECK IS DEAD

Remains of John Wesley Anderson Will Be Laid to Rest at Homewood Tomorrow Afternoon.

The funeral of John Wesley Anderson, president of the Carbon Steel Company, the 23rd victim of the Pennsylvania railroad disaster to meet death, will be held from the family residence at No. 415 Neville street, Pittsburgh, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton, pastor of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, will officiate. The interment will be made at the Homewood cemetery.

Mr. Anderson's death was due to shock caused by the death of his son, Frank Wesley Anderson, last Sunday morning. The elder Mr. Anderson was at first reported to be only slightly injured and physicians had hopes for his recovery until his son's death. At his bedside when he died yesterday morning were Mrs. Anderson and their son, J. Willard Anderson. The family returned to the family home with the remains late last night.

Mr. Anderson was born in Webster street, Allegheny, on May 1, 1847. After graduating from the Allegheny public schools Mr. Anderson became a machinist in the works of the McIntosh & Hemphill Company. In 1874 he went to Cleveland and became a roller in the Otis Iron and Steel Company. He returned to Pittsburgh in 1883 and shortly afterward became superintendent of the Carbon Steel Company. Not long afterward he was elected to his present position. In 1878 he married Miss Adella M. Barker of Pittsburgh. He is survived by his widow and two sons, R. Wilson and J. Willard Anderson.

Street Railway Franchise Granted.

GREENSBURG, May 19.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the town council of Mt. Pleasant last night a franchise was granted to the Uniontown & Monongahela Electric Railway Company, a constituent concern of the West Penn Railways Company. It is stated that a new route to Greensburg, connecting Hecla, Youngwood and the county seat, will be built. From Youngwood to Greensburg the company already has a line, the Greensburg & Southern.

NEW CHARGES IN EQUITABLE SUIT

Officers and Directors Are Alleged Illegally to Have Wasted the Society's Money.

FRICK AS "DUMMY" DIRECTOR

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, May 19.

New charges against James W. Alexander, James H. Hyde and the members of the board of directors of the Equitable Life were made public today, when Senator Edgar T. Brackett filed in Saratoga Springs the complaint in the suit of Mary S. Young against the officers of the society for the restoration of funds which it is asserted have been wasted. The most sensational charge is that funds of the society have been illegally used in settling claims against some of the directors.

The names of those who have been classified as "dummy" directors controlled by Hyde are given as follows: George J. Gould, James J. Hill, August Belmont, Edward H. Harriman, Levi P. Morton, Henry C. Frick, Alexander J. Cassatt, Louis Fitzgerald, William A. Wheelock, Henry C. Deming, George H. Squire, Charles Stewart Smith, Valentine P. Snyder, Alvin W. Krech, James B. Forgan, C. Ledyard Blair, Brayton Ives, Melville E. Ingalls, Jacob H. Schiff, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, John Jacob Astor, William C. Van Horne, Henry Rogers Winthrop, Marvin Hughitt, Marcellus Hartley Dodge, Bradish Johnson, Joseph T. Low, Darius O. Mills, Robert T. Lincoln, John Sloane, George T. Wilson, Thomas T. Eckert, William H. McIntyre, H. C. Haarstick, David H. Moffatt, T. Jefferson Coolidge and Cornelius N. Bliss.

Hyde's Salary Inordinate.

The complaint avers that, through his power over the directors, Mr. Hyde caused himself to be elected vice president of the society, and that from July 1899, to February, 1900, he received a salary of $25,000 a year, then raised his salary to $75,000 a year. Since 1902, according to the complaint, Mr. Hyde has been receiving $100,000 a year without rendering services of great value.

The new charges of perversion of funds are "that said sums have been taken by Hyde to pay for his personal traveling expenses and the traveling expenses of friends whom he was entertaining." It is also charged that "L. V. Goffiat, a French stenographer, and one Mortigny, a French personal employe of Hyde, who rendered no services whatever to the society, have received more than $25,000 each from the society's treasury."

Mr. Hyde is also charged with having taken large sums of money, as expenses, from the treasury of the society without rendering any item of such expenses. The complaint then takes up the charges against Jacob H. Schiff. He is accused of wrongfully profiting by the sale of securities by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., to the Equitable. E. H. Harriman is also accused of making large sums of money through selling bonds to the company.

Tarbell and Depew Scored.

Gage E. Tarbell comes in for censure for profiting by the sale to the society of his renewal account for $135,000, the claim being made that he had no right to receive such money while he was a director of the society. Chauncey M. Depew, it is charged, for the last three years has received annually $25,000 from the society's funds, for which he rendered no services.

John J. McCook, Charles B. Alexander, Henry C. Deming, Alvin W. Krech and William H. McIntyre, it is declared, have been connected with underwriting syndicates which sold securities to the society at a higher figure than that at which the syndicate was under obligations to pay for them.

The complaint avers that William M. McIntyre draws $30,000 a year from the society, that "he has rendered no services for the money, and that he has received it solely because of the friendship between him and Mr. Hyde." The $10,000 a year which Henry R. Winthrop receives as financial manager is said to be paid for the same reason.

The society's officers are accused of lobbying, "In not preventing and in negligently permitting the funds of the defendant society to be used for improper and unlawful purposes, to secure in various states legislation supposed to be favorable to the societye and to prevent in various states legislation supposed to be inimical to the interests of the society, all contrary to law as well as good morals, and resulting in great waste of the funds of the society."

Another policy-holders' protective society, which was formed April 18 in Boston, came to the front today with an appeal to Equitable policy-holders throughout the United States to join it in bringing about an investigation of the company's affairs, which would insure justice to those whose money is invested in Equitable policies. It is intimated in the circular sent out that the two investigations now being conducted will not have the effect desired by the policy-holders.

Pennsylvania After Sharpsburg Frontage.

The Pennsylvania railroad is again said to be endeavoring to secure land along the river frontage of Sharpsburg for more than a mile, for the purpose of constructing a straight freight track and freight yards. Options are being taken and the borough will probably be asked next week to enter negotiations for the sale of the borough water works and electric plant property, and the vacating of three streets which cross the right of way desired.

VERY BAD ELEMENT ON THE CRUISER GALVESTON

Secretary Morton Defends the Commanding Officer in Preserving Discipline.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Secretary Morton has replied to a communication from the humane society at Galveston, Tex., which alleged that seamen on the cruiser of that name which recently visited the city had been ill-treated by their commanding officer. Newspaper clippings bearing on the conduct of the sailors while in port were enclosed in the society's letter. Secretary Morton expresses an appreciation of the motives moving the society, and then proceeds to very severely comment upon the enclosed newspaper clippings.

These clippings state many of the sailors were drunk while ashore, and were confined in the "coop;" that the officers called the men profane names, and that a police court officer was severely assaulted aboard the ship by bluejackets. Secretary Morton says if the facts are as stated there is a very bad element in the crew, who have no proper place in the navy, and that the conduct of the men amply excused any lawful action which the commanding officer might take to preserve order and discipline. The secretary concludes:

The department cannot sufficiently express its regret that the men of the Galveston should have thus conducted themselves, and expresses the hope that the reports may have been exaggerated in large degree, as well as the statement made that the police authorities were not disposed to assist in the return of men to their duties on board ship, as otherwise the only effective means to prevent the recurrence of similar occurrences will be to restrict the visits of national ships to your harbor to the limit of prohibition until the unfortunate effect which may have been created in the minds of the law-abiding citizens of Galveston shall have been obliterated.

GUARDSMEN ARE GIVEN A PIECE OF BRONZE

Officers of Philadelphia Regiment Are Royally Entertained by Members of a Local Command.

The officers of the Third regiment of Philadelphia and the Eighteenth regiment of Pittsburgh held a close communion last night at the Moninghehls club. To cement their long friendship a magnificent bronze statue of Victory was presented to the local guardsmen by Col. W. G. Price, Jr., as a token of the inseparable feeling of amity which long has existed between the two organizations.

Col. Frank I. Rutledge of the Eighteenth, accepted the token. After he had spoken Col. Albert J. Logan, commissary general on Gov. Pennypacker's staff, addressed the banqueters. Col. Logan recalled the efforts that had been put forth by the guardsmen to obtain adequate armories for the western command, and lauded the officers of the eastern regiments for the noble manner in which they had declined to accept portions of the state appropriations until the Second brigade in Western Pennsylvania is supplied with the necessary shelter for its regiments and isolated companies.

Accompanying Col. Price were Maj. C. J. Cresswell, Captain J. Leyman, Capt. W. H. Davis, Capt. George C. Hulme, Capt. George W. Boyer and Lieut. Lewis Ancker. Maj. E. J. Kearns was toastmaster. In the evening a dance was held at the Eighteenth's armory by the members of Company D, to the members of Company L, of the Third, who came from Philadelphia. The function at the armory was directed by Capt. Marshall Henderson of the local company.

AMALGAMATED ADOPTS PERCENTAGE SYSTEM

Decides to Further Support Men on Strike—Office Held by John Pierce is Abolished.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DETROIT, May 19.—The convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers today changed the system of paying dues in the organization. A percentage system was adopted, which provides that not less than one per cent of a man's gross wages shall be paid, and the advisory board of the association was given power to increase the percentage, when occasion demands, as much as is necessary.

The convention also instructed the general officers to continue supporting the men now on strike for an indefinite time. Many of the strikers have already been carried by the association for eight months past the time their strike benefits are supposed to cease. There are, it was said, tonight, about 1,400 or 1,500 men affected by this order.

By an overwhelming vote the convention voted down a proposed amendment providing for the adoption of the referendum system. The office of assistant to the president and national organizer, at present filled by John Pierce, was abolished today. The decision yesterday to employ five paid vice presidents made this office unnecessary.

Barnsdall Leases Ilmsen Farm.

BUTLER, May 19.—(Special.)—Theodore N. Barnsdall of Pittsburgh today secured a lease from the Ilmsen heirs of their farm of 50 acres, lying directly east of the Waldron farm. The price is said to be $10,000. The McBride well is producing at the rate of 50 barrels an hour. John A. Snee of Pittsburgh today leased 30 acres of the Miller heirs. The price, it is said, was $20 an acre.

BAPTISTS HEAR CHINA'S FORMER PRIME MINISTER

Hon. Henry Kirk Porter of Pittsburgh Gives $25,000 to the Fund for Endowing Mission Schools.

Special Telegram From Rev. W. G. Partridge, Staff Correspondent.

ST. LOUIS, MO., May 19.—A striking incident of the Baptist anniversaries at St. Louis today was the introduction of Kang Yu Wei, former prime minister of the Chinese empire and the greatest reformer of his race. He and 53 other high officials were doomed to die about the time of the Boxer uprising, because they advocated reforms in China. The 53 others were killed but Kang Yu Wei escaped.

The speaker urged the Baptists to start more Christian schools in China. Before the address of Kang Yu Wei the Baptists passed a resolution urging the United States government to modify the Chinese exclusion act.

Dr. Thomas S. Barnes, foreign secretary of the American Baptist missionary union in his address denounced conditions in the Kongo Free State, where the Baptists have missions on the Kongo river, and expressed a hope that the American government would investigate.

The Baptists have decided to raise $500,000 to endow their schools and colleges in heathen lands. Of this amount $107,000 has been raised. Two men each contributed $25,000, and one of them is the Hon. Henry Kirk Porter, of Pittsburgh.

A forward movement was decided upon in foreign mission work. The total receipts for the past year for foreign missions were $717,639.

Sunday the annual sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. C. A. Eaton of Cleveland, Ohio. Three hundred churches in Baltimore have asked Baptist ministers to preach in their churches Sunday. The annual election of officers resulted as follows:

President, William A. Monroe, Massachusetts; vice president, W. W. Keene, Pennsylvania; recording secretary, the Rev. Henry S. Burrage, Maine; Board of managers, the Revs. H. M. King, Providence, R. I.; W. M. Walker, Philadelphia; R. L. Whitman, Philadelphia; Edward Judson, New York; J. W. Carter, Spencer, W. Va. Also these laymen: P. Bonny, Portland, Me.; W. W. Keene, Philadelphia; Churchill H. Cutting, Brooklyn; Prof. W. A. Stevens, Rochester, N. Y.; O. Wentworth, Boston; Richard M. Colgate, Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Horace A. Noble, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. William H. Spencer, Cambridge, Mass., and Mrs. E. W. Bucknell, Philadelphia.

WANT TWO PER CENT FROM STOGIE STOCKHOLDERS

A request to remit 2 per cent of the amount of their preferred or common stock has been sent to stockholders of the American Stogie Company by the committee named at a meeting of certain stockholders at the Hotel Henry May 6. The money is to be used to start legal proceedings to obtain a financial statement and a dividend.

It is stated that the formal demand for a financial statement and a dividend has been made upon President C. M. Logue of the company and that he has refused on the advice of the counsel of the concern. Another meeting has been called for 2 p. m. next Friday, at the Henry.

REPUBLICANS GATHER TODAY

County Committee Is to Vote to Postpone Primaries Until September 16.

O'NEIL IS AFTER ORPHANS

The Republican county committee will today vote upon the proposition to postpone the county primaries until September 16. Chairman T. J. Ford is of the opinion there will be no opposition to the change in the rules.

The committee will meet in common council chamber at 2 o'clock this afternoon. In addition to changing the date of the primaries from June 3 to September 16, steps will be taken to secure the adoption of uniform rules for the government of the party in city, boroughs and townships. This will be done by the appointment of committees representing Pittsburgh, Allegheny, McKeesport, the boroughs and the townships. The Pittsburgh committee has been named and the county committee will today authorize Chairman Ford to appoint the representatives of the county organization. The Allegheny and McKeesport city committees will be selected later.

The change in the date of the primaries will not affect the election of members of the Pittsburgh city committee and the county committee on June 3. It is necessary to have the new organization perfected at the usual time.

O'Neil Is Silent.

J. Denny O'Neil, who is supposed to be at the head of the Citizens county committee, is usually given much to talking. Since the day he tried to have the harmony conference adjourn to Philadelphia in order to get away from the newspapers he has been unusually silent, and there is a suspicion that some one high in authority has said: "Dear Denny, don't talk." He is unable to give any information about the movements of the Citizens. He is holding daily conference with the leaders at city hall, and yesterday afternoon he had a long talk with Controller Larkin. O'Neil is trying to get Larkin to turn the Orphans in for the fusion ticket.

Some of the Citizens say that early in June a new county committee of 32 will be named, and it will proceed to slate a ticket in the way followed by the party in the recent campaign. The present plan is to give the Democrats these three places: A county commissioner, register and clerk of courts. James A. Clark, who, with W. J. Brennen, is joint owner of the local Democracy, is expecting to name four or five of the 10 candidates.

May Sacrifice Register.

Clark will insist upon the right to name his running mate on the ticket for county commissioner. He wants a man who will be willing to offer himself as a sacrifice and allow him to secure the minority commissionership. In order to make this nomination, some Democrats are of the opinion that Clark will be willing to allow the Citizens to name the candidate for register. This action would force F. X. Barr to run again for clerk of courts. He wants to succeed Register Stengel because the job carries more salary than does the office he now holds. Barr was hopeful that the Democratic convention would nominate him for the place, but Clark saw the trading advantage of the position and would not permit the convention to make any other nomination after he had been chosen for commissioner.

W. J. Brennen, who was authorized by the county convention to name the fusion committee, will not announce his men until the Citizens have indicated the course they will pursue. It develops that the Allegheny city administration is objecting to the appointment of James McKay, the North Side Democratic leader, as one of the conferees. Until this question is settled the committee will not be named. Clark favors the appointment of McKay.

Head Was in Town.

John B. Head of Greensburg, who is in the lead for the Democratic nomination for superior court justice, was in Pittsburgh yesterday. He is hopeful of victory at Harrisburg next week. Judge L. W. Doty of Greensburg is still a candidate, but Mr. Head is of the opinion the judge will not allow himself to be used as a club. Mr. Head is favored by Col. J. M. Guffey and the state leader is able to nominate the man of his choice. A majority of the delegates will go to Harrisburg uninstructed and after they see the colonel they will take the same view of the situation that he does.

Mickle C. Paul of Philadelphia has issued an open letter to the Democratic state delegates. He asks them to adopt a platform which will declare for a constitutional amendment abolishing minority representation; a revision of the election laws; for state assistance in building good roads; equality in taxation; force public officials to refuse railroad passes, and secure frugal administration of public affairs.

George A. Stitt and W. W. Mechling have announced themselves as candidates for burgess in Munhall at the next spring election. They are Republicans. Charles Laid, a member of the West Homestead council, announced his candidacy for burgess of that borough yesterday.

G. T. Atkinson has made application to be appointed tax collector of Elizabeth to succeed George W. Gray, resigned. W. Ding McBryar is also an applicant for the office.

FORMER SLAVE LECTURES.

Controller Larkin's Messenger Is to Tell Story of Twenty Years of His Life.

Thomas J. Gatewood, the aged messenger of Controller Larkin's office, has arranged to give in public a history of 20 years of his life as a slave in Virginia, ending when the emancipation proclamation went into effect. This history will be recounted in a lecture which "Uncle Tom" will deliver next Tuesday evening, May 23, at the Centenary Methodist Episcopal church, Wylie avenue and Kirkpatrick street.

"Uncle Tom's" story of his 20 years in slavery does not agree exactly with the fanciful tale of the experiences of the "Uncle Tom" of Harriet Beecher Stowe. He thinks that as a whole the slaves of the south fared pretty well, and avers that he did not work as hard as a slave in his youth as he does now in the city hall at nearly 70 years of age. He often relates to his friends, with a great deal of pleasure, tales of the days when he was a member of the "F. F. V."

AFTER THE SPITTERS.

Officers Are Detailed to Arrest Men Expectorating in Street Cars.

Police Supt. Wallace yesterday detailed 12 plain clothes men to ride in the street cars and arrest men expectorating in the cars. When a passenger is detected spitting on the car floor or behind the seats he will be taken to the nearest police station. The officials of the traction company have instructed the conductors and motormen to lend the policemen every assistance in their work.

Supt. Murray of the Railways company yesterday sent Supt. Wallace passes for the plain clothes officers. Supt. Wallace hopes to check the habit and thinks his officers will accomplish much after they make a few arrests.

GRAIN MAN'S GOOD FORTUNE.

Members of the Pittsburgh hay and grain exchange are awaiting the return of Joseph Davis, bookkeeper for Herb Bros. & Martin, who has gone to Indiana, Pa., to attend the settlement of a large estate, in which he is interested as one of the principal heirs.

The estate comes from the grandmother of Mr. Davis, and is in Cork, Ireland. The attorney in charge of the American end of the matter is a member of the Indiana county bar, which accounts for the journey there for a settlement. Mr. Davis is known to every member of the exchange under the name of "Punxsutawney," being a native of the City of Groundhogs.

SYNAGOGUE SITE BRINGS $87,000

Tree of Life Congregation Disposes of Its Fourth Avenue Property.

NETS $24.17 A SQUARE FOOT

The Hebrew congregation of the Tree of Life yesterday afternoon concluded a deal whereby they sold its synagogue property at the northeast corner of Fourth avenue and Ross street to an unknown purchaser for $87,000. The deal was consummated through Avey & Irish, who have not disclosed the name of the purchaser. In the neighborhood of $50,000 was paid in cash and the congregation is to retain possession of the building for one year if they so elect.

The property has a frontage of 80 feet on Fourth avenue and 45 feet on Ross street, which makes the purchase price $24.17 a square foot. The church building was erected 50 years ago and was purchased by the Tree of Life congregation from the Ross Street Methodist congregation 23 years ago.

Rumors have been persistent that the Panhandle railroad, whose station is but a short distance in the rear, has been anxious to acquire the property, but as the sale was not a cash one, it is believed to have been purchased by a speculator. It is reported that the property was taken up by a downtown investor in anticipation of the enhancement of property in this section with the realization of the purchase by the county commissioners of the properties between Ross and Grant street and Diamond street and Fourth avenue for the proposed extension to the court house.

It is the intention of the Jewish congregation to build farther east, but not further out than Atwood street in the Oakland district, nor Third-Fourth street in the Lawrenceville district. The majority of the congregation live in the hill district, while others live in Allegheny, and for this reason it is proposed not to build too far away. There is a minority sentiment in the congregation to build in Allegheny.

The congregation was established in 1865 and the present officers are: H. H. Livingston, president; Isaac Jackson, vice president; Charles Spandau, treasurer, and M. Fink, secretary. The congregation numbers 80 members, and the Rev. Michael Fried is rabbi.

HOMESTEAD STUDENT STRANGELY MISSING

Honor Pupil at Schwab Manual Training School Disappears Night of Commencement.

Seward Posey, the 16-year-old son of Capt. C. W. Posey of Homestead, has been missing from his home since last Tuesday. He was one of the honor pupils at the Schwab Manual Training school, and at the exercises there that evening was to have received a diploma. After supper he dressed himself in a new gray striped suit and patent leather shoes and his parents supposed he was going to the school when he left home. He had not returned at 11 o'clock that night and his father started out to hunt for him, but could not find him.

The boy had said he would stop and collect the rent from one of Capt. Posey's tenants and it was found he did so, but he had not been at the school exercises. From some of his playmates it was learned he had been about a wild west show that night where he was seen talking to three tramps.

Detectives were employed to follow the show in search of the boy, but they learned nothing of him. He is said to be a studious boy and ambitious to go to college and it was his father's intention to send him to Yale. He weighs 156 pounds and is 5 feet 11inch tall. The boy's mother is prostrated on account of his disappearance, fearing some harm has come to him.

Passenger Travel Is Heavy.

E. A. Ford, passenger traffic manager of the Pennsylvania lines, left last night for Chicago. He said that passenger business throughout the country was never in a better condition. Travel is heavy and tariff rates are being maintained. He returned yesterday morning from attending the Central Passenger association meeting at Chicago, and important business called him back to the Windy City.

This will also include a pattern free.

Our Fancy Work Department is now located on the third floor, West. All requisites for executing any sort of Art Needlework are to be found there. If you would learn to make any kind of embroidery or lace, consult with Miss Koch, our expert from Denmark. Private lessons, or you can join a class.

Boys' Rough Rider Suits Today, 50c.

Choice From Two Styles.

We have just received 1,100 of these rough rider suits for youngsters. They are made of Philippine kakai, trimmed with red. The latest kink is the General Miles Suit, the breeches of which have bib and are held up by suspenders. If he gets too warm the boy can shed his coat, and in that case the bib is a good protection to the shirt. The other style is the regular Roosevelt Rough Rider Suit. All the suits are fringed.

For turning out the boy and letting him run wild there is nothing like one of these suits—it will please him immensely, and it will please you for the saving it effects on the wear and tear of his other clothes.

Late Creations in Women's Neckwear.

Lots of new things ready today at the Neckwear Counter, West Store. Nothing pleases us better than to see women pleased, and to this end we always like to have a collection of new things for Saturday, the logical neckwear day of the week.

New Chemisettes made of soft mull, or of lace, new designs—50c each and up to $6.00.

Chemisette Sets—chemisettes and cuffs to match, new drop cuffs in assorted styles, 50c a set and up to $12.00.

Hand Embroidered Linen and Pique Turn-Over Collars, the fashionable shirtwaist styles, 50c each and up to $1.75.

Coat Sets of pique and linen—revers and cuffs—perfect fitting, plain and fancy styles, 75c a set and up to $6.50.

Soft Mull Coat Sets, assorted styles, 50c a set and up to $7.50.

SPECIAL TABLE CONTAINING THESE VARIOUS FIXINGS: Linen, pique, madras, lace and mull washable stocks; collar and cuff sets; boxes of ruching, etc., each regularly priced at 50c, today 25c each.

Flowers and Plants.

Don't forget about the flowers and plants today on sale in East Basement. There are different varieties of potted flowers and there is a lot of green plants—all sold for much less than such species generally command.

Every plant and flower we sell you is perfectly healthy—there is not a sickly plant in the whole collection.

Candy Armor and Ordnance.

We've always an eye on the novel, and in this instance we have these novelties in candy, that, as yet, have reached nowhere in Pittsburg excepting this store.

Yes, sir, we've got the ordnance, the heavy cannon, and we've got the armor, represented by muskets, revolvers, etc.

Oh, yes, they'll shoot, we're not fooling—the bullets and the cannon balls are pellets of candy.

Fun for the tot—any amount of it.

We've also telephones and ten pins—the base of the telephone is nothing more than chocolate, and yet it has a hello bell on it that rings—the ten pins and the bowling balls are candy.

See these novelties today at the Candy Counter, 15c each and up to 40c. Also note that we always have fresh candies ready when you call.

Flags for Memorial Day.

If you think of it, get your flags today, but whatever you do don't neglect the matter next week.

We don't suppose you could find a larger collection of flags than the one in the East Basement, from which we ask you to choose.

We have silk flags of the largest size made, as well as the smallest size, and all our bunting flags are made of the same material that the U. S. Government uses in its flags, namely, all-wool bunting.

We also carry painted muslin flags.

If you have use for flag ribbon you will find that at the Ribbon Counter, and flag crepe paper is on sale in the Fancywork Department, third floor, West. Cotton bunting is on sale in West Basement, and all-wool bunting at the Dress Goods Counter, main floor, West.

Women's Street Suits $22.50 Reduced From $35 to $65.

An incursion into the women's Suit Department, by which former low prices have been brought down to the single price that stands alone in its uniqueness for fine street suits.

The sizes run from 34 to 44.

We are rounding up our stock of cloth suits as the cotton time is at hand, and suits of cottony textures are being eagerly sought for.

That's why we are willing to stand a loss on these cloth suits. There is an endless variety of styles and materials and colors and mixtures. Some of the most wanted light grays are in the lot.

Today, if you would save a really handsome sum on a fine suit, the opportunity is given you.

Another Day Among Ostrich Plumes.

Today, again, in the Millinery Section of the first floor, West, where special prices always prevail, genuine Ostrich Plumes will be on sale for these underprices. These plumes are in all colors.

Women who pride themselves on always having stylishly trimmed hats should look into this matter today as early as possible:

At $4.00—former price $7.50—20-inch plumes, in two-toned brown.

At $3.00—formerly $4.50—16-inch plumes, in shades of light and dark castor.

At $1.50, $2.00, $3.00—according to condition of plume—former price $5.00—18-inch brown plumes.

At 35c, 50c, 75c—according to condition of plume—former price $1.50—16-inch black plumes.

At $4.75—former price $10.00—12-inch plumes of green, three in a bunch.

At $2.00—former price $3.50—15-inch olive green plumes.

At $6.00—former price $12.00—23-inch black and white plumes.

At $4.00—former price $2.00—15-inch black and white plumes.

At $3.50—former price $6.00—18-inch black plumes.

At $4.00—former price $7.50—18-inch black plumes.

At $1.50 and $2.00—acording to condition of plume—former price $4.00—16-inch black plume.

OFFICE OF CITY CLERKS, City of Allegheny, Pa., May 19, 1905. Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance was presented at a meeting of common council of the city of Allegheny, on the 18th day of May, 1905, and was referred to committee on surveys.

ROBERT DILWORTH, City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE—Re-locating Homer street (formerly Humboldt street), Seventh ward, from a point one hundred and eighty-eight and eighty-three one hundredths (188.83) feet northwardly from Filbert street to a thirty-three (33) foot road, of a width of fifty (50) feet, according to accompanying plan.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the re-locating of Homer street (formerly Humboldt street) Seventh ward, from a point one hundred and eighty-eight and eighty-three one hundredths (188.83) feet northwardly from Filbert street to a thirty-three (33) foot road, of a width of fifty (50) feet, according to accompanying plan, the center line thereof being described as follows.

Beginning at a point one hundred and eighty-eight and eighty-three one hundredths (188.83) feet northwardly of the northwardly line of Filbert street, on a line twenty-five (25) feet westward and parallel with the easterly line of Homer street (formerly Humboldt street) as laid out in plan of General Wm. Robinson, Jr., thence north, forty-nine degrees five minutes west (N. 49 deg. 05 Min. W.) for a distance five hundred (500) feet to a point; thence north twenty-nine degrees nine minutes west (N. 29 deg. 09 min. W.) for a distance of one hundred and fifty-four and eighty-six one hundredths (154.86) feet to a point; thence north eleven degrees forty-six minutes west (N. 11 deg. 46 min. W.) three hundred and seventy two and forty-six one hundredths (372.46) feet to a point; thence north twenty-four degrees fifty-two minutes west (N. 24 deg. 52 min. W.) for a distance of one hundred and seventeen and fifty-six one hundredths (117.56) feet to a point; thence north thirty-seven degrees fifty-eight minutes west (N. 37 deg. 58 min. W.) for a distance of one hundred and ninety-three and six-tenths (193.6) feet to a point; thence north thirty-three degrees twenty-seven minutes east (N. 33 deg. 27 min. E.) for a distance of seventy-seven and nineteen one hundredths (77.19) feet to the westerly line of a thirty-three (33) foot road.

The damages caused thereby and the damages caused by the grade and the benents to pay the same to be assessed and collected in accordance with the acts of assembly in such cases made and provided.

Sec. 2. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing be and the same is hereby repealed.

Hope has been abandoned at Washington that a new exclusion treaty can be negotiated with China. This will render some things difficult, and may result in litigation and bad feeling. There is still the original treaty, but it is too narrow to meet requirements, and there is a possibility that radical action by this country will invite commercial reprisals by the Chinese guilds. It is a situation demanding fine diplomacy.

It is promised by the contractors to have the new capitol at Harrisburg completed by the first of next year, when all departments may be gathered together. The state library will remain in the present executive building and it is proposed to create there a state museum. Thus Pennsylvania will soon have a capitol establishment in accord with its wealth and standing as a state, and of which its citizens may be proud.

Baron Rosen has been given a dinner by the Russian foreign office preliminary to his departure from St. Petersburg for Washington. The occasion was improved to make known the desire of Russia to establish, through the new ambassador, better relations with this country. There were previous notices to this effect, and if results do not follow it will not be because of any failure on the part of Russia to advertise its desires.

Rumors are rife in Washington of changes to be made in the president's cabinet. There is nothing authentic except the announced intention of Mr. Morton to retire from the navy department. At the same time it should occasion no surprise if others should desire to be relieved of their duties. It is well understood the salary of a cabinet officer is no inducement to enter the public service, and one term may satisfy the ambition to occupy the honorable position.

The policy of British preference in Canada has been death to its woolen industry. The woolen mills are going broke or quitting business, and the once prosperous Canadian textile industry is now a thing of the past. The communities affected do not find that the privilege of buying goods in the cheapest market compensates them for the loss of work and wages by citizens and the decline of business activity. It is a condition and not a theory which confronts them, and protection is the only remedy for such a condition.

New York city has gone to immense expense to secure a water supply of natural purity, and yet the Tribune says that it may be found necessary to add to that expense "by filtering it or by taking some more thorough measures of purification than the methods now employed." This will be the general experience. It is practically impossible to protect natural supply from contamination, and the only positive security is by a filtration system such as Pittsburgh is providing. It will prove to be by far the best and most remunerative asset of the city.

The Pittsburgh Post boils over with indignation at the way franchises are sold in Philadelphia. How much better these matters are treated in Pittsburgh, where public complaint is made the basis of fusion movements which get offices for Democrats and furnish the public service corporations with a new batch of valuable franchises without any compensation to the public at all! Philadelphia procedure would diminish the rewards of fusion politics which the local Democratic organization, of which the Post is the organ, would like to extend all over the state.

Congressman Brownlow, one of the two Republican representatives elected from Tennessee, has a plan for carving a new state out of western North Carolina, eastern Tennessee, southeastern Kentucky and southwestern Virginia. As these are Republican sections he figures that the states concerned might be willing to let them go, but the calculation does not appear to be well founded. No state would be willing to lessen its weight in congress. Texas has the right under the terms of admission to split up into smaller states, but shows no inclination that way.

A Well Bossed Party.

On Wednesday next the Pennsylvania Democracy will meet in state convention in Harrisburg to nominate one candidate for the superior court bench and one for state treasurer. Under the law the Democracy could have three candidates for the superior court, but under the ruling of the managers of the party it will name but one. That one, by the same decree, will be John B. Head of Westmoreland. Delegates will gather to the convention from all parts of the state and it may be a few other names will be presented to the convention, accompanied by some yards of eulogistic oratory, but the voting will all be one way—according to the decree.

Our Democratic friends are always much exercised about "bossism"—in the Republican party. In their own case it is a "matchless leadership." They are always opposed to the "machine" which operates under the name of Republican, but are devotedly attached to the "organization" that is Democratic. They decry "orders," when the other fellows take them, yet they are attentive to the slightest whisper of the man who must be obeyed on penalty of withdrawal of the campaign fund. They are about to ratify the decree that one man shall be named for the sure thing on the superior court bench to preclude the possibility that another man might be elected by Democratic votes if three were named. To cover this purpose, however, they make the pretense that bad Republicans might throw enough votes to elect the least desirable candidate. It does not appear to the wayfaring stranger why a Democratic convention should name a "least desirable man" for an important judicial position, if it should avail itself of its full privilege, but we have Democratic authority for the statement.

The recent Allegheny county Democratic convention was as conspicuously foreordained as the state convention will be. Its program was prepared in advance and went through without a hitch. It made sure of giving the certain place to the right man by naming no others. There was an entire absence of the old-time spirit that made Democratic gatherings interesting for spectators and frequently for the police. In short, the whole order of things has been completely changed. The Democratic party in Pennsylvania is as effectively bossed as any party ever was, and in some particulars to its advantage.

The President as a Traveler.

Simultaneously with the announcement that President Roosevelt is now refusing passes and paying his way comes the statement that he has already visited every state and territory in the union except Arkansas and Florida, and he expects to include these in his southern trip next fall. This is certainly a remarkable record, for even those who travel much for pleasure usually omit several states from their routes because they are not particularly interested in them. The president's enthusiasm as an observer and the attention he attracts as the chief executive have made his travel about the country of special use in affording a perspective of the varied conditions of climate and population in the great country he represents. Besides the broadening effect of the knowledge he has acquired much has been done to foster the spirit of national unity.

When the president goes next month to attend his class reunion at the Harvard commencement he has been invited by a Democratic governor to be the guest of Massachusetts during his stay in that state. That this is not merely perfunctory courtesy is evident from the fact that it follows the enthusiastic entertainment accorded him by members of the opposing party, not only in the south, but in Chicago, where the Iroquois club, which includes some of the most aggressive partisans, gave him such a welcome as their guest. The policy of paying his way will materially reduce his income, but there will be compensation in the use that can be made of these personal experiences during the remainder of his term and the satisfaction that must attend his retirement in the consciousness that he went further than most of his predecessors in learning at first hand about the country which made him its ruler.

New Safety Devices.

As applicable to the conclusions of the coroner's jury concerning the South Harrisburg wreck and the comments of The Gazette thereon, Mr. George Westinghouse has made a statement, published this morning. He does not mention the wreck, but his remarks follow logically and point out how the cause of that wreck is to be avoided in the future. The remarkable tests made at East Pittsburgh the other day for the edification of the delegates to the International Railway congress gave ample proof for his deductions.

It is worth noting that the new friction draft gear and the improved brake valve are being fitted to all new cars of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio systems and to the old equipment also. This is evidence that no law is needed to compel progressive managements to adopt devices to secure the safety of their traffic. There may remain, however, the danger of accident to the inferior equipment received from other roads, and this is a problem not easily solved. One railroad is not permitted to reject a shipment offered by another. In the case of the air brake law it was ascertained that legal requirement failed to induce some roads to equip within the prescribed period because they had no money to pay for the appliances. Those roads are not moved by self-interest to adopt modern devices because their traffic is operated under conditions less dangerous to inferior equipment than those of the trunk lines. Yet we are sure the solution will be found.

The Business Situation.

During the week there has been some slackening in several lines. There is a halt in the iron trade that is diversely attributed to waiting for price adjustments, merely, and to abandonment of projects. United States Steel Corporation officials report continuance of heavy orders for finished products, and other mills are running up to capacity, so the dullness in iron may be a lull, preliminary to greater activity.

Stock markets continue weak. The liquidation started some time ago had apparently run its course when there came reports of damage to the crops by unseasonable weather. These affected the granger roads in particular, iron market conditions tended to depress steel and other industrial shares. Announcement of the purpose of the Panama commission to purchase supplies in the world's market had a further disheartening effect. This is not so much due to the contracts involved as to the belief that a period of tariff agitation will follow. Speculators dread agitations of every kind that have relation to business operations.

General commerce continues of good volume. Retail trade is necessarily influenced by inclement weather, but wholesale lines continue at about the same rate. The foreign trade of last month registered high figures and this month is keeping up the pace. This should count for something in an estimate of the situation. It may be admitted that adverse signs have appeared in the injury to winter wheat and the delay in corn planting, for good crops are a large factor in prosperity, but no injury has been done yet that assures crop failure. The cold wave now passing over the country has not been destructive to fruit, and its effects upon cereals and vegetables has been more retarding than ruinous.

The money market continues in good condition. Funds are ample for investment and rates comparatively easy, despite heavy investments in foreign securities during recent months. Returns from these investments will operate to keep up the money supply in the future.

Alfonso Learning English.

A Wisconsin man is going to Madrid to teach King Alfonso the English language, and simultaneously King Alfonso announces before starting on his European tour, that he will bring home no bride but one that will make his people happy. There may seem to be no connection between these two incidents, but another cable message conveys the news that King Edward has been made an admiral of Spain, and after this the most unimaginative of diplomats must scent the possiblity of international matrimonial complications. The lines from Madrid, London and Lancaster, Wis., seem to converge and cross in a way that sets aside the theory of coincidence, and the tutor who is going to induct Alfonso into the mysteries of Anglo-Saxon vernacular had better make certain of his proficiency in conjugating the verb "amor."

Regarding it as practically settled that Alfonso has cast his eye upon some granddaughter or niece of his Britannic majesty's, and that the admiralship is merely a device to get King Edward out of the way so that Alfonso can do his courting undisturbed while the admiral superintends the whitewashing of unconverted cruisers, it looks as if there might be some very interesting linguistic developments at Windsor castle or Buckingham palace. If Alfonso could already read English he might learn how one of Shakespeare's kings wooed and won a bride under similar handicap, but evidently his English is worse than Henry's French, since he must send to Wisconsin for some one to improve it. But "nice customs curtsy to great kings" and it may be doubted whether Alfonso will wait until he can urge his suit according to Lindley Murray. The habitues of British court circles will have to retire softly and walk around the other way when from some arbor or alcove they hear the words "Believe me, fairest princess—como decir lo que siento," or the impassioned confession that "I adore you more than—no se como acabar esto." The man from Wisconsin will have no sinecure, and if the match should come to nothing after all he will probably lose his job on account of incompetency.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"I fear John Knox's prayers more than Scotland's armies," said Mary, Queen of Scots.

And she had cause to fear his prayers, for they were the outpouring of a heart that had not the fear of man, be he high or low, monarch or servant.

Having been reared a Roman Catholic, and having devoted much thought to the church and its methods, he knew whereof he spoke. And having become thoroughly convinced that the church had departed from the true faith, and that it was catering to the tastes of the people instead of developing in them tastes for the true and the good as God required, he, like Luther, attempted to work reform within the church.

After many efforts in this direction he determined to preach the truth as God gave him to see the truth, and that without fear or favor, be the consequences what they might. But his faith in God, and in His providences, was such that he never doubted for a moment that the reformation he so much desired would finally be established.

The history of his life goes to show that when a man puts himself into a work which he believes is right in the sight of God, he is bound to succeed. This is in accordance with the eternal fact, "Truth is mighty, and it shall prevail."

* * *

Tomorrow will be John Knox day in all the Presbyterian churches throughout the religious world, it being the fourth centennial of his birth.

Doctor Moffat, moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, now in session at Winona Park, Indiana, will preach a Knox memorial sermon before the assembly, while in every church belonging to the various branches of the Presbyterian faith, similar sermons will be preached. In many of them there will be specially arranged exercises fitting the occasion.

A number of Presbyterian ministers here in the city will deliver specially prepared sermons in which the life of the father of Scottish Presbyterianism will be carefully reviewed and the results of his great work summarized in such manner as to show what a wonderful influence this man had over the people of his time, and of all time since.

Such sermons are most useful, for they show what a man may do when he works with might and main, heart and brain; and what man has done man may do.

The achievements of strong men are the greatest incentive to other strong men to strive to accomplish something great, which is something worth while. The man who accomplishes all the good he can is equally as great in his sphere as was Knox in his.

* * *

John Knox was a muscular sort of Christian as well as spiritual. Had he not been so he never would have been known to the world. The time in which he lived were muscular times, so to speak, for the people relied more on muscle than on brain to carry their points.

It was the martyrdom of Wishart in 1546 that warmed his Scotch blood up to near the boiling point. He had taken orders in the Church of Rome some years before, but had not advanced to the dignity of a full-fledged priest, his duties being limited to work in the religious establishments in the neighborhood of Haddington.

After the cruel death of Wishart he became restive under the restraint of the church and found it impossible to adapt his conscience to its doctrines and requirements. He therefore announced his sympathy with the Protestants, those within the church who protested against the more offensive dogmas and acts of the church. This subjected him to suspicion, so he entered St. Andrews as tutor to the sons of some of the more prominent dissenters.

Shortly after this St. Andrew was taken by Catholics, with the assistance of the French, and he was placed on a galley where he remained a prisoner for a year or more laboring at the oar, and part of the time in chains.

* * *

Chains and enforced labor were not enough to dampen the ardor or weaken the spirit of John Knox. On the contrary, they served to strengthen him and to specially fit him for the great work before him. He even wrote extensively. It was during this time that he wrote an epistle addressed by "the bound servant of Jesus Christ unto his best beloved Brethren of the Congregation of the Castle of St. Andrew, to all Professours of Christ's true Evangell." This epistle bore the caption, "The Confession of Faith."

After his release from the French galley in 1549, he began preaching at Birwick, assailing Romanism with great vehemence. He had the courage to enter the cathedrals and preach the truth as he understood it, with great power. So great was his influence that on several occasions the people arose and stripped the cathedrals of images, shrines and other paraphernalia peculiar to cathedral worship.

Mary, Queen of Scots, who was then a handsome, winsome young widow, undertook to silence him by having him proclaimed a heretic and a traitor, but he wouldn't be silenced. She commanded him to appear before her, which he did, and in her presence declared his doctrines and denounced those of the Romanists. She even thought of burning him at the stake, and might have done so had she not feared that his ashes would cry out more loudly and effectively than his living tongue.

* * *

Whether it was Queen Mary that turned him against women in power, is not known, but it is quite certain that he held them to be unit to govern, as shown by his epistle entitled, "The First Blast of the Trumpet Against the Monstrous Regiment of Women." This was so bitter and scathing that it reacted to his hurt more or less. He had other blasts in store, but on the advice or wise counsellors he refrained from uttering them.

From 1559 to the time of his death he confined his field of labor to Scotland, although his utterances were being repeated everywhere in the Christian world, and were everywhere taking hold in the hearts of the people. It is said that he, more than any other, made Scotland what it was by so firmly establishing Protestantism within its borders.

Isn't it strange that such a great and wonderful man should lie in an unknown grave? But such appears to be the case. At least his grave, which is somewhere in the burying ground connected with St. Giles church, is unmarked. This burying ground was afterwards obliterated by the construction of buildings and making roadways.

The Earl of Maviton, standing by the open grave after the funeral service, said: "Here lieth a man, who in his life never feared the face of man; who hath often been threatened with dagge and dagger, but yet hath ended his days in peace and honor.

"He was a man of strong conviction and an intensely earnest soul. He was kind and tender toward those doing right, but terrible in his denunciation of wrong. He had his defects and he made his mistakes, but he was God's servant."

Froude says of him: "He was no narrow fanatic who could see truth and goodness nowhere but in his own formula. He was a large, noble, generous man with a shrewd perception of fact, who found himself face to face with a system of hideous iniquity. He believed himself a prophet with a direct commission from Heaven to overthrow it. He did not relax until he saw it fall. But he was a builder also. Scotland is his monument and the Calvanistic Presbyterianism of the world is his glory."

No Tainted Money Wanted.

The Rev. Campbell Morgan gave notice directly in his London pulpit that gifts from brewers and other persons engaged in "unholy traffic" were not wanted. "Your minister," he said to the congregation, "does not believe in shaking the devil's tree to put money on the Lord's table."—Washington Star.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 19.—The fight to close "fake" Raines law hotels this year will be continued by the Committee of Fourteen, even if Gov. Higgins should refuse to sign the Ambler bill, and it should be decided that the Raines bill has not been passed legally. If the Ambler bill, which is designed to make effective action against the objectionable hotels possible this year is not satisfactory to the governor, the Committee of Fourteen will ask him to submit the question of excise amendment to the legislature at the special session, so that a measure that he would be willing to sign may be passed.

As to the Raines bill, Representative William S. Bennett is strongly of the opinion that it is legally before the governor, and that is the opinion of the governor himself. No effort will be made by the committee to have the Raines bill taken up in special session if it is finally decided that it has not been legally passed. "We are especially interested in having the Ambler bill signed," Mr. Bennett said today. "This bill makes it possible to take effective action against the Raines law hotels this year, and at the hearing on it at Albany next Friday we are going to urge the governor strongly to sign it. My belief is that he will do so. If he does not we shall ask him to submit it to the legislature at the special session in June, so it may be passed in a form that he will approve of."

Dr. Osler Sails Away.

Quietly and unobstrusively Dr. William Osler of "chloroform all over 60" fame, sailed for Liverpool today on the White Star line steamship Cedric. His name was not placed on the passenger list at his special request, because, as he said, "somebody would surely bother me by asking what should be done with women over 60 years old. I certainly have enough troubles." Dr. Osler, who was recently professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins university, is on his way to Oxford university, England. He will deliver lectures there, but denies he will attempt to discuss his advocacy of the administration of chloroform to men over 60 years old. Since the doctor first outlined his ideas, he has been pestered almost continually concerning them, until he has grown tired of notoriety.

And He Favors "Ragtime."

Benjamin M. Jerome, whose recent advent in the musical field with "The Royal Chef," has brought him into prominence as a composer, is not in sympathy with those of his brothers-in-arms who decry "ragtime." "It does not follow," said he, "just because this particular make of music has outstayed its welcome in New York that the rest of the universe should shut its ears to it. Popularity at best is but local. Take the finest melody even written and the musical stomach will turn at it after reiteration. Just so with 'ragtime.' While it is new to the ear, it pleases; as a matter of fact, experience has demonstrated that even with familiarity contempt was slower in coming than it was in the case of the more orthodox musical comedy tunes which strut their short hour on Broadway and then are never heard of again. After a while, however, even with 'ragtime,' the inevitable must happen."

Hard Blow to the Summer Youth.

A carload of Panama hats, due in New York last night, have failed to arrive. Nothing but their ashes can come now. For nearly a car full of them, attached to the Royal Blue flyer on the Reading from Philadelphia, burned last night at Rydal, Pa. The train left Philadelphia at 8:42, but not until Rydal was reached, when the train was going 50 miles an hour, was the fire discovered. The fire department of Beth Ayres was called out. Four streams of water were thrown on the car for over an hour. Because of a strong wind and the inflammable nature of Panama hats, the car and its contents burned completely.

Jail Preferred to Husband.

Rather than return to her husband, Mrs. Jennie Campbell cheerfully accepted a sentence from Judge Shipman in Belvidere, N. J., today. Mrs. Campbell, who is 36 years old and of good appearance, is the wife of Walter C. Campbell of Rockport, N. J. She had been convicted of having eloped with John Torrence. Judge Shipman, before pronouncing sentence, gave the woman the option of living with her husband or going to prison. "I'll go to prison for the rest of my natural life before I will live with that man again," declared Mrs. Campbell. "I can't live with him and be happy, and I will take the inside of a prison for my home before I will live with him a single day."

Martial Fete for Governors Island.

Governors Island will be the scene of a martial fete of unusual interest next Thursday, when a garden party will be given for the benefit of the Army Relief society. To insure the success of the affair, not only Gen. and Mrs. Wade and the men of the Eighth infantry, but the wives of army officers of other posts in and near New York are working assiduously. To entertain the guests there has been arranged by the women interested a sham battle, extended order drills and special drills by the Eighth infantry, and a concert by the post band.

Child-Wife Gets Her Husband.

With the admonition that he be good to his child-wife and treat her with the consideration her age deserves, Magistrate Steinert in the Yorkville police court today discharged Joseph Fisher, 30 years old, who had been charged with abduction, in eloping with and marrying 14-year-old Annie Miller. The girl's grandmother caused Fisher's arrest after he had married young Miss Miller, but did not appear in court to press the charge. Magistrate Steinert accordingly discharged the prisoner, and the little wife thanked the court for straightening out this trouble so early in their matrimonial existence.

Red Fish of Death.

A large influx of the alalauwa, the famous red fish about which the Hawaiian superstition has it that their appearance denotes the death of a member of the royal family or some one occupying high place, is now causing much speculation among the Hawaiians on the water front.—Honolulu Bulletin.

FRANCHISE GRANTS

Conditions Under Which They Are Granted in Most Cities.

An exhaustive report dealing with the conditions under which the rights of street railway companies to use a public thoroughfare are awarded and held in the various states of the union, excluding New Jersey, was submitted to the Newark (N. J.) board of trade recently by its committee on public franchises.

After giving a broad definition of the legislation relating to the duration of the franchises, the report gives a table of states having constitutional or general statutory provisions limiting the duration of grants as follows: Alabama, 30 years; Arizona, 50 years; California, 50 years; Florida, 50 years; Idaho, 50 years; Illinois, 20 years; Iowa (in cities under special charter), 25 years; Kentucky, 20 years; Louisiana (in parishes), 99 years; Montana, 20 years; Nevada, 20 years; New York (in cities of second class), 50 years; Ohio, 25 years; South Dakota, 20 years; Virginia, 30 years; Wyoming, 10 years. This table shows the report continues, how generally the limitation of franchises has been adopted.

Duration of Grants.

In the states whereof duration of grants is limited by general statutes, special charters have been given municipalities containing provisions reducing the maximum period of duration of grants.

The report then continues: "In California, where the general statutes restrict such grants to 50 years, the charter of San Francisco provides that no street railway franchise shall be granted for more than 25 years. In New York, where the statute governing cities of the second class limits each grant to 50 years, the charter of the city of New York fixes the maximum period at 25 years, permitting, however, a provision for renewal for a period not exceeding 25 years."

In several instances in states having no constitutional or general statutory provisions, the charters granted to municipalities contain restrictive provisions.

In Maryland the Baltimore city charter limits grants to 25 years, allowing, however, for provisions in the grant for extension not exceeding in the aggregate 25 years. Minnesota and West Virginia do likewise.

Limitations of Franchises.

In states where there are no constitutional or general statutory provisions, and where municipalities are left free to prescribe conditions in making grants, the policy of limiting the period during which consent shall be operative has likewise been adopted to a large extent, as in the case of Colorado, Georgia, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee and Wisconsin.

The same policy has also been adopted in Canada, England and in Budapest. In French municipalities the usual franchise period, the report states, is limited. The report also states that franchises are limited in Stuttgart, Berlin, Milan and Vienna. The report refers to the good behavior term of duration in vogue in Massachusetts.

Methods of Compensation.

The manner in which the situation developed by the expiration of limited grants is met is various, the report says. In California the statutes require that the franchises be sold to the highest bidder. In most other states it was provided that the franchises were to be disposed of to the municipality at an appraised valuation. In New York in all cities over 50,000 inhabitants the rights are required to be sold by competitive bidding to the corporation offering the highest percentage of gross receipts.

The forms of compensation," continues the report, "exacted upon grants are various. In some cases payment of a lump sum is required; in others the payment of a fixed annual sum; in others a payment based on net earnings or profits; in some instances a percentage of gross receipts is exacted; in others the paving and maintenance of streets are provided for, and in others still, a car or pole license is imposed."

THE WEATHER.

O, the damp and rainy summer!
O, the cold and dreary summer!
Ever faster, faster, faster,
Falls the rain on lake and river;
Ever wetter, wetter, wetter,
Falls the rain o'er all the landscape;
Falls the soaking rain that poureth
Day and night without cessation.
Scarcely from the cosy hearth-fire
Can a creature force a passage,
With his rain-coat and umbrella,
Swift he rushes thro' the city,
Hopes for clear sky, but there comes none,
Sees no sign of clearing weather,
In the clouds beholds no breaking,
On the slippery, muddy pavements
Flashes still the steady rain-pours.

O, the thunder and the lightning!
O, the roaring of the thunder!
O, the flashing of the lightning!
O, the howling of the wild wind!
O, the wailing of the women!
O, the swearing of the bad men!

All the earth is soaked and sodden;
Misty is the air around us,
Threatening is the sky above us,
And the heavy clouds in heaven
Like wet blankets hovers o'er us.

Up into F. Ridgeway's office,
Rush the desperate, maddened people,
In their hearts is deadly hatred,
On their faces bitter anguish,
Wrapped in rain-coats, armed for flashing
With their mighty umbrellas.
To the top of the sky-scraper
In their anger rush the people.

"Ruler of the wind and weather,"
Cry they in loud tones and strident;
"Give us no more rain, O Ridgeway;
Stop this pour or you will perish."

Midst the far-resounding thunder,
Above this din of angry voices,
Comes to them no other answer
Than the flashing of the lightning,
Then another pour of water.

END OF STRIKE AGAIN IN SIGHT

Mayor and Sheriff Both Declare It Will Be Called Off Within 24 Hours.

TEAMSTERS ARE IN SESSION

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 19.—All the indications tonight point to the end of the teamsters' strike within the next 24 hours, it being learned President Shea was making an effort to secure the best terms possible before consenting to recommend that the strike be called off. After the meeting Shea reported directly to the teamsters' joint council, which met at union headquarters and continued its deliberation until a late hour. The sole power of calling off the strike rests with this body.

Mayor E. F. Dunne asserted he had information the strike will come to an end within 24 hours or within 48 hours at the latest. There will be no formal declaration of a calling-off of the boycott, he said. The men who are re-employed will quietly go back to work, and the ban will be lifted without demonstration of any sort.

When President Gompers left Chicago last night it is said Sheriff Barrett was given authoritative information that while there would be no formal capitulation on either side of the controversy, the striking teamsters and the employers would quietly merge interests and restore peace. The sheriff was informed that if the law-abiding members of the union could be reinstated the strike would not last 24 hours. Sheriff Barrett declared he had been informed that such men would be taken back.

President Shea declared to the Liverymens' association he "had more power than the mayor of Chicago, and had enough men to go up State street and clean out the district to the lake," according to the testimony of Frank Amberg, before Master in Chancery Sherman today. Amberg is president of the West Side Liverymens' association.

"I told Shea," he said, "he ought to have been run out of town long ago. I thought myself that it would be better to hang him to a lamp post."

Mayor Dunne today carried out his threat to revoke the license of any cab driver who violated the city ordinance by refusing to carry passengers to the strikebound stores. The driver is Thomas D. Doherty, president of the Cabmens' union.

Seven more leaders of the strikes at the public schools this afternoon were sentenced by Judge Mack to terms in the parental school. The boys were all under 14 years of age.

DAYTON, O., May 19.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, arrived in Dayton today. Speaking of the Chicago strike, he said: "There will be no unconditional surrender of the strikers in Chicago, nor would I advise such a thing. It all depends upon the employers. If they are ready to accept reasonable terms, the strike will be ended in a few hours, otherwise it will be continued indefinitely. The men are in earnest, and will protect what they hold to be their rights, however long the strike continues."

LOWEST BIDDER LOSES.

Company Which Secured Former Contracts from City Fails to Get the Second Lot.

Although it was given a big bunch of city contracts a few weeks ago because it was the lowest bidder the Blake Asphalt Maintenance Company of Cincinnati failed yesterday to secure a new lot of asphalt contracts although it was again the lowest bidder. Contracts aggregating about $16,000 were awarded to the Barber Asphalt Company, a competitor of the Blake company.

Director Bigelow said the reason the Blake company did not get the last lot of contracts was because it was a new company and he wanted to see what kind of work it did on the first contracts it had secured.

By competitive biddings prices have been reduced from $2 a square yard to as low as $1.51 a square yard, but Director Bigelow's decision giving a higher bidder the last contracts will have a tendency to keep up the prices to the city, as the Blake company was the only independent concern in the local field.

The contract to build the Lincoln avenue bridge was awarded to Friday & Cost at $45,679. This relieves the Pennsylvania Railroad Company from building the bridge, as it agreed, the company's bid being higher.

GALLOWS CLAIMS BLUEBEARD HOCH

Jury Finds Polygamist Guilty of Murdering His Next to the Last Wife.

HE WANTS TO DIE AT ONCE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 19.—Johann Hoch, who by his own confession is a polygamist, and who is charged by the police with having married at least 40 women in the last 15 years, today was found guilty of murdering the next to his last wife, Marie Welcker Hoch, and the death sentence was recommended by the jury in Judge Kersten's court.

Today's verdict was reached in less than half an hour. Three ballots were taken. The first ballot was unanimous as to Hoch's guilt, and then a ballot followed as to the punishment to be inflicted. This ballot showed 10 in favor of the death penalty and two for life imprisonment. A third ballot resulted in the 12 jurymen voting for the death penalty.

"Well, I guess it's all off with John," groaned Hoch, as the verdict was read in court. He was greatly affected. He had sat in a stooping position, but when the word "death" was read he turned pale, stared hopelessly at the jurors, and then sank limp in his chair.

Hoch's attorneys will ask for a new trial, although the condemned man declared he was ready to die, and would be better satisfied if they did not make an effort to save him.

"I wish they would hang me tonight, now that I have been found guilty," declared Hoch. "I am not afraid to die, and the sooner it is over with, the better."

Hoch declared the jurors did not take time to consider the evidence.

"The evidence was all circumstantial," he said. "My life was 'guessed' away by the jury."

Hoch denied positively he had murdered a number of his wives, as has been alleged, and displayed bitterness in speaking of the matter.

"Such talk is foolish," he said. "The reports have been spread that I am a modern 'Bluebeard.' This is untrue. All that can be said against me is that I have committed bigamy. As to the talk that I had nearly a dozen wives, it is nonsense, as are the stories I made way with them. There was no evidence that I had another sweetheart and wanted to get rid of the woman I am accused of poisoning. I spent money to get her, but this part of the evidence was ignored by the jurors."

Hoch said he preferred the death penalty to life imprisonment. He then commenced to whistle a lively air as he returned to his cell.

OPERATIONS IN JOLO AGAINST MORO OUTLAWS

Gen. Wood So Explains Fighting—Says American Troops Behaved Splendidly.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Through Gen. H. C. Corbin, U. S. A., commanding the division of the Philippines, Gen. Ainsworth, military secretary of the army, has received Gen. Leonard A. Wood's report of the recent fighting with Moros in Jolo. Among army officers Gen. Wood's report is considered at least the mild account of the situation. It is believed that the fighting has been desperate. Here is Gen. Wood's report as made public:

"May 14, returned to Zamboanga yesterday. Troops sent to Jolo are being returned to stations as rapidly as possible. Moro outlaws who have been raiding and killing in Borneo were killed in action, together with all their principal supporters and followers, Sultan, with all large chiefs, but the island in no way involved; purely an aggregation of piratical outlaws, disorderly characters, from Sulu and the other islands stretching down to Borneo. Positions selected by outlaws for defense were situated in almost impenetrable jungles and were exceedingly strong, prohibiting use of artillery, necessitating close contact and assault in two instances. Casualties nine enlisted killed and 21 enlisted wounded; two constabulary killed, three wounded, during the 10 days' operations. All wounded doing well, and all expected to recover; bulk of wounds not serious. Troops behaved splendidly and performed this most difficult service in a highly creditable manner. Full report will be forwarded. General breakdown of the cable, combined with use of water transportation at Jolo and in adding Buford, prevented sending dispatch earlier."

The following list of killed is reported by Gen. Wood in addition to those reported May 17: Samuel Weaver, Company G, Twenty-second infantry; Elick Howell, Company B, Twenty-second infantry; Eary E. Sansoucie, Company A, Twenty-second infantry.

FOR THE CARNEGIE GIFT.

Netherlands Legislators Vote Money to Buy Site for Palace of Peace.

THE HAGUE, May 19.—The second chamber of the states general today by 58 to 5 votes appropriated the sum of $280,000 to purchase the ground comprising an area of 12 acres, on which to erect the palace of peace for which Andrew Carnegie donated $1,500,000.

The opposition contended that other powers should co-operate in providing this sum, but the premier, Dr. Ruyper, replied that the honor of the Netherlands and its gratitude to Mr. Carnegie for the privilege enjoyed by the Netherlands, as a result of his providing the palace for the court of arbitration, demanded that the money to purchase the site be voted.

Looking for Petrimus' Money.

Slav residents of Munhall are looking for treasure that John Petrimus is supposed to have buried before he committed suicide on Thursday. Once, when the woman with whom he boarded asked for money, Petrimus went out somewhere and brought back a bundle of bills wrapped in a rag incrusted with dirt. Taking some money from the bundle he wrapped it up again, went out for a while and returned without the package. His Slav friends are now trying to find the hiding place of the money. Petrimus boarded at 606 Pottersville lane.

Will Forfeit Bail Money.

WASHINGTON, PA., May 19.—(Special.)—Clerk of Courts C. E. Baker is in receipt of a letter from the American Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Baltimore, Md., saying that the company has been unofficially notified that the bond of Hannah Gregg, alias Annie Kelly, the shoplifter who was called for trial at this place Monday, May 8, had been forfeited. Notice was given that the company is ready to forward the bail money, $2,000, on receipt of a copy of the court's order.

PUTS UP DESPERATE FIGHT AGAINST ARREST

Thefts Charged to Homestead Postoffice Clerk Are Disclosed by Decoy Letter.

After a struggle in which he fought like a madman, Michael Dalton, an employe of the Homestead postoffice, was arrested last evening, charged with robbing the mails. In the inside pocket of his coat was a decoy letter which had been registered and mailed under the direction of Postmaster John Grein.

Registered and special delivery letters had been missed for weeks, and the loss had been traced back to the Homestead office. Dalton, who was employed as a mailing clerk, and who is said to have been drinking heavily, was suspected. Postmaster Grein and his assistant, L. L. Jones, sent two decoy registered letters, with fictitious addresses written on a typewriter, but neither entrapped Dalton.

Yesterday a Homestead Hungarian at the request of Postmaster Grein addressed a letter to a Hungarian, at Lorain, O. After Dalton had made up the mail, Postmaster Grein called him into his office, while Jones went through the bag and discovered the decoy letter was missing. Dalton was then summoned and Jones asked:

"What has become of the letter addressed to John Koves, Lorain, O."

Dalton appeared perturbed, but stoutly declared he didn't have the letter. He was told he would have to submit to a search. As he took off his coat, it was noticed that he held the inside pocket closely. An examination disclosed the letter in the pocket.

Dalton tried to escape, but was seized, and a fight ensued. A man standing in the postoffice was directed to call the police, but it was nearly 10 minutes before Sergeant John Mellon and Officer William Rosser appeared.

In the meantime Dalton had put up a desperate fight with the postmaster and his assistant. During the struggle his head had struck a table and was severely cut. Postmaster Grein made information against Dalton, charging him with robbing the mails. Dalton, who is 27 years old and unmarried, had been employed in the Homestead office for a year.

Pittsburgh's 1,000-Acre Suburb

3 Cents to 3¾ Cents Per Square Foot for the Finest Residence Frontage South of the Monongahela River

The rain is about over. Come out today or tomorrow and see Summit Park, which is destined to be one of the leading suburbs of Pittsburgh. Get in at the beginning.

You would scarcely expect to find 1,000 acres of level land in this great city of hills and hollows, but here it is in Summit Park.

When you see it you will agree that it is the ideal spot for a high class residence district. It extends 1½ miles along both sides of the main car line which passes through Mount Washington tunnel, and is only 35 minutes from the heart of the city.

Summit Park is the only large suburb of Pittsburgh which is laid out in 100-foot lots. You don't have to be a real estate expert to know that a residence section composed of half-acre lots is bound to be a more desirable place to live in than one made up of 25 or 30 foot lots.

A 30-foot lot "suburban paradise" means in the course of a few years rows of houses shoulder to shoulder, with just about room enough for alley-ways between, and little back yards scarcely large enough for hanging out the wash. No amount of "sunshine," or moonshine for that matter, can make such a place a high-class residence district.

When you buy a home, first ask yourself if it is a good investment. If it is not you will find it cheaper to pay rent. You must look to the possibility of enhancement in the value of your ground. The house will be old and out of date in a few years.

We claim that Summit Park, located as it is and laid out as it is in large parcels, is a first-class investment, and among the hundreds of people who have talked to us about Summit Park we have not heard a single denial of our claim. Neither have we heard a denial that Summit Park lots are selling for 100 per cent less than they are actually worth.

We have had people tell us that the location does not suit their business, or they prefer to live in the city, but we have not had one to say that our advertisements are misleading or that we cannot make good our representations.

The reason is that we are dealing only with facts and common sense. Summit Park stands on its merits. If these lots are not worth $15 per foot today, then Fifth avenue frontage in Pittsburgh is not worth $15,000 per foot.

We are receiving letters every day from investors in all parts of the country asking for information about Summit Park. We had a letter yesterday from Louisville, Ky., another from Somerville, Mass., and many others which we have not space to mention. Pittsburgh real estate is recognized everywhere as a safe and profitable investment. It is a fact that outsiders are often keener to the possibilities of Pittsburgh than Pittsburghers themselves. We are waiting to hear from the man from Missouri, and we are ready to show him.

Look them all over—but hold on to your money till you have seen Summit Park.

Here are the prices again: Lots 100x200, $750; 100x250, $750; 75x180, $575; 50x140, $375. Terms 10 per cent cash, 3 per cent per month. No interest and no taxes till lot is paid for.

Take Charleroi Car at Third Avenue and Wood Street. Express cars leave at 9 minutes after the hour. Get off at Summit Park Station in 35 minutes.

GAS LEASE OPENS A POLITICAL WAR

Mayor Weaver May Clean Out All Organization Men from Their City Berths.

VETO MESSAGE IS EXPECTED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 19.

While Mayor Weaver refuses to say he will veto the United Gas Improvement gas ordinance, it is the general impression he will do so. To act otherwise would invite the charge of fear or cowardice, or both. Commissioner Durham and his lieutenants do not expect the mayor to approve the ordinance, in fact it is said Weaver served notice on Mr. Durham last Wednesday he would veto the measure if it was passed by councils.

That the organization expects no assistance from the mayor was shown by their defiance in having nine bills passed yesterday over his veto. This was an open challenge for war. Those close to Mayor Weaver say he will accept the challenge. Should he do so there will be some lively politics the next two years in the Quaker city. Nearly all of the important members of the mayor's cabinet are "organization" men, that is, if the issue is joined they would be expected to follow Durham instead of Weaver. Director Costello, of public works, and Director Smythe, of public safety, are credited to Durham, and so are all but one or two department heads.

Expect Mayor's Declaration.

A real declaration of the policy the mayor will pursue will probably be outlined in his message which is expected at the next meeting of councils. That body will then, unless in the interim revolutionized, pass the ordinance over the veto, and political warfare will follow. Practically a clean sweep in the cabinet, followed by hundreds of removals of city employes will come if Weaver accepts the advice being tendered him by the opponents of the gas lease.

It is this possibility of an exercise of executive power which is being brought to the attention of councilmen. They are being threatened with political extinction if they fail to support the gas veto. Every councilman relies largely on the patronage his ward receives from the administration, and he now confronts the question whether he can secure a re-election if this patronage is given to opposing influences in his ward. The proposition is a serious one for many members, not a majority perhaps, but a sufficient number to make it a matter of concern.

The organization is confident. Durham's friends say every man who voted for the gas lease is pledged, and will keep his pledge, to not sustain a veto if the mayor transmits one.

Mayor Advised to Fight.

Mayor Weaver today sent for all the councilmen who voted against the lease. He congratulated them in person. With ex-Sheriff Crow, now a member of select council, the mayor had a long talk. Crow has been fighting Durham for a year or two, but has made no great headway. He advised the mayor that by threatening a withdrawal of patronage he could whip councils into line and compel support of his veto. Crow is a good fighter, well posted, wants revenge, and the mayor will probably make him an aid in the coming battle.

Councilman Wilson H. Brown, who voted against the lease, will likely be an independent candidate for sheriff, opposing Harry C. Ransley, president of select council, the organization candidate for sheriff. Weaver, it is said, will help Brown. Other fights are promised. Efforts are being made to have "indignation" meetings held nightly in different wards until the next meeting of councils when it is proposed to have another Coxey army march on city hall.

Talk of federal action goes on, but no details are made public. The legal end of the opposition program promises little but delay.

Mayor Weaver has been making political reprisals. He tonight ordered the discharge of Assistant Highway Commissioner Oscar Noll, Republican leader of the Thirty-seventh ward, and member of the city committee, who the mayor believes induced the member of select council from his ward to vote for the gas lease. Noll's position pays $3,000 a year.

HIGH COMMAND GIVEN BIRILEFF

Russian Vice Admiral Will Take Charge of All Pacific Naval Affairs.

WILL GO TO VLADIVOSTOK

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, May 20.—Vice Admiral Birileff, who has been named for the supreme command in the Pacific, will leave for Vladivostok May 25 to assume charge and make preparations for repairing and refitting the vessels of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet, when they arrive. By imperial command the commander of the Vladivostok garrison will be subject to his orders, thereby avoiding the possibility of any conflict of authority in case of a siege, as at Port Arthur.

The departure of the new reinforced squadron, consisting of the battleships Slava and Alexandrie, two cruisers and a number of torpedo-boat destroyers and gunboats, he said, is fixed for the middle of June. Vice Admiral Vereinga has succeeded Birileff in command of the Baltic squadron, but it has not been determined whether he will take out the new squadron.

Vice Admiral Birileff's departure will lack the spectacular features of those of Vice Admirals Makaroff and Skrydloff and Gen. Kuropatkin, the admiral declaring his intention of leaving the city quickly and without ceremony.

Reports of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's breakdown and of his surrender of his command continues in circulation, one rumor saying Vice Admiral Nebogatoff, though Rejestvensky's junior in rank has been ordered to assume the command. The newspapers again say Kuropatkin is returning from the front and going to the Crimea to recuperate.

A dispatch from Gen. Linevitch, dated May 18, says a small detachment of the enemy, May 16, occupied Yandi pass on the front of the armies. The Japanese also attempted to occupy Shahotse, but were repulsed and retired southward. The same day the Japanese approached Honukhu, about six miles south of Taul, but were forced to retire.

The Russian charge d'affaires at Peking has informed the Chinese government that, according to reports, the Japanese intend removing the emperor of Korea to Japan in contravention of the treaty of Shimonoseki, guaranteeing the independence of Korea. The Russian government has protested against such action to all the powers.

PITTSBURGH KNIGHTS TO GIVE RECEPTIONS

WILLIAMSPORT, May 19.—Williamsport is decorated from one end to the other with bunting and the Knights Templar, white and black in anticipation of next week's state conclave. Among the events on the program are receptions by Asaalon Commandery No. 50 and Duquesne Commandery No. 72 of Pittsburgh. Right Eminent Sir Wilson L. Fleming, grand commander of Pennsylvania, arrived this evening and has opened headquarters at the Park hotel.

Iron Works Disposed Of.

WASHINGTON, PA., May 19.—(Special.)—The South Pittsburg Iron works at Claysville, which orignally cost $100,000 and which contains $50,000 worth of machinery, was sold today at public auction to R. J. Hler of Beaver for $18,400. It is reported that an offer of $25,000 had been made to the receiver, A. W. Krouse, two weeks ago, but this bid was not made at today's sale. The purchaser will put the plant in operation as soon as the sale is confirmed in court.

The Death Roll.

John Dowling.

John Dowling, internal revenue collector in this district under the Cleveland administration, died late last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. W. Armstrong, at Fombell, Beaver county. He was 82 years old, and his death was due to the infirmities of old age. He was born in Green county and was a well-known farmer and stock raiser for many years. He located in the west in 1856, where he raised stock until 1890. Since then he had made his home with his family here. He leaves one son, John M. Dowling, of Rices Landing, and four daughters, Mrs. A. M. Greenlee of Rural avenue, this city; Mrs. Lucinda Sedgwick of Rices Landing; Mrs. Ida Murdock of Jefferson, Green county, and Mrs. Armstrong, at whose home he died. He will be buried on Sunday at Hewett's cemetery, Rices Landing.

Mrs. Nancy Kennedy.

Mrs. Nancy Kennedy, aged 91, widow of Capt. Thomas Kennedy, died Thursday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Mary King, 900 Cedar avenue, Allegheny. She was born in Ireland and came to this country with her parents when 12 years old. She lived for many years in the Sixth ward, Pittsburgh, and moved to Ross township 50 years ago, where she lived until the death of her husband in 1866. She was a member of the Highland Presbyterian church of Perrysville, Pa., and was formerly a member of the Sandusky street church, Allegheny. She is survived by eight children, 21 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

William P. Howe.

William Preston Howe died yesterday at his home in Tarentum, following an operation at the Homeopathic hospital last week. He was born in East Deer township in 1837 and was a grandson of Daniel Howe, a Revolutionary soldier. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church for half a century. His wife, who was Jane Kennedy, daughter of a pioneer settler in this region, survives him with the following children: Sarah E. and Charles P. Howe and Mrs. Margaret E. Rutherford of Tarentum, and the Rev. John K. Howe of Mt. Pleasant.

Mrs. Sarah Stewart.

Mrs. Sarah Stewart, aged 79, widow of John Stewart, died late Thursday night at the family residence, 208 Ann street, Homestead. She had resided in Homestead for the past six years, moving there from Johnstown. She is survived by eight sons and three daughters—Frederick, Homestead; Charles and M. E., Johnstown; John, Reynoldsville; Jacob, Roaring Springs; William, Bakers Summit; Samuel and James, Indiana county; Mrs. Andrew Mead, Homestead; Mrs. Charles Ruger and Mrs. Jane Barner, Johnstown.

William S. Dundas.

William S. Dundas, aged 80, died yesterday at his home in Columbia avenue, Swissvale, from paralysis. For 28 years he was employed in the Washington Machine Company's works, and later by the Union Switch and Signal Company as foreman of the blacksmith department. He survived his wife four years. Two sons, William and John, and two daughters, the Misses Jenile and Annie Dundass, at home, survive him.

Jacob Byers.

Jacob Byers, 85 years of age, died at the home of his grandnephew, Frank Byers, near Terr, Thursday. Mr. Byers was one of the wealthiest farmers of Westmoreland county. He was a lifelong member of the Reformed church. One brother, John Byers, aged 91 years, survives.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Annie Klein, wife of John Klein, is dead at her home in Idlewood street, East Carnegie. She was a member of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church. Besides her husband, she leaves six children.

Mrs. Ernest Bergerstock, aged 24, is dead at her home in Natrona. She belonged to the Presbyterian church, and is survived by her husband and two children.

Mrs. Lottie Hill, aged 30, wife of John Hill, died late Thursday night at her home in Stokes avenue, North Braddock. She is survived by her husband, one son, two sisters, Mrs. Edward Smith and Mrs. James Abbott of Economy, and one brother, Samuel Ream of Braddock.

Mrs. Margaret E. Ross, aged 87, mother of Councilman Thomas C. Ross, died at the latter's home in East Eighth avenue, Tarentum, yesterday.

PLAN TO ISSUE BONDS.

Plans are being formed by the Old Colony Coal and Coke Company to issue $250,000 worth of bonds. The purpose of the bond issue is to enable the company to build employes' houses and company stores at both the Ligonier Valley and the Glen Easton mines and to take up other projects.

The company was formerly known as the Colonial Coal and Coke Company, but this name was objected to by the Pittsburgh Coal Company, which owns the Colonial Coke Company. After consideration the name "Colonial" was changed to "Old Colony."

A Big Real Estate Event.

The opening sale of lots in Alanco Place, Mt. Lebanon, which begins this morning, is one of the most attractive opportunities for securing a residence site or making an investment that has been offered in Greater Pittsburgh, and it is safe to say that this will be a big day on the plan. There was a large crowd visiting the ground yesterday for preliminary inspection of the property. If a situation 20 minutes' ride from downtown, with a 7 minutes' car service in both directions, in the heart of an established home community of a high-class, and of great natural beauty is a more desirable site for a home, Alanco Place is that and more.

"Tales" is out today. Ask your newsdealer for it. It contains seventeen stories, most of them by authors of world-wide reputation, and all of them great stories. These stories, all in English, are selected from eight different languages. The complete novel is by "Gyp," the famous French novelist of Parisian society. The serial is by Jean Reibrach, a beautiful study of French rural life. The shorter tales are by Maxim Gorky, Ernst von Wolzogen, Anatole France, Baroness von Heyking, Alfred Capus, Emilia Pardo Bazan, Mathilde Serao, and nearly a dozen others. "Tales" is the magazine you want.

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquozone Can't Kill.

On every bottle of Liquozone we offer $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do this to assure you that Liquozone does kill germs.

And it is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact which gives Liquozone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights. And we have spent over one million dollars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Acts Like Oxygen.

Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is an absolutely certain germicide. The reason is that germs are vegetables, and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

Liquozone goes into the stomach, into the bowels and into the blood, to go wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it. The results are inevitable, for a germ disease must end when the germs are killed. Then Liquozone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly restores a condition of perfect health. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquozone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. Half the people you meet—wherever you are—can tell you of cures that were made by it.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

CUPID'S ADVICE IS TO SEE FRIEND

Should be Heeded by Young People About to Be Married.

EVERYBODY CAN SAVE.

Friend's Liberal Credit System Enables You to Buy Furniture and Carpts on Easy Payments.

Take Cupid's advice and see Friend if you are going to be married. You will never regret your matrimonial step if you do. Friend's large furniture and carpet establishment at 810 to 814 Penn avenue is daily thronged with young married people and young folks about to be married. They go there for their housefurnishing goods, because the prices are the lowest there and because they can buy anything on credit.

Friend's credit plan is the most liberal of any in the country, for the reason that you can buy anything on credit at prices as low as if you were paying cash.

Make your own selections, and the goods are delivered at once. You pay for them at your convenience, and the payments are made so easy that you do not miss the money as you make the payments.

Any couple can afford to get married with Friend's assistance. Just walk into his store any day, get prices, compare values and you will see for yourself the great advantage you have in buying your housefurnishings at Friend's.

And besides, you will find that Friend has the choicest line of furniture and carpets in this part of the state. Everything that is new and dainty in furniture you will find here at the most tempting prices. Friend's new carpets include all the swell patterns, such as you will pay fancy prices for elsewhere.

Friend's prices are invariably low. And you can always depend upon Friend's carpets and rugs for artistic merit and wearing value.

If you need anything new in this line get it now while the stock is large and the varieties are extensive. Friend will wait for the money.

Remember that Friend's establishment is located at 810 to 814 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, and do not fail to see the elegant case of silverware which he gives free with every purchase of $50 or over on which a payment of $10 is made. This is a plush case, and contains genuine Rogers' knives, forks and spoons—a beautiful gift such as everybody appreciates.

ROUGH HOUSE CASE IS UP TO MAYOR

Director Moore Will Report on Arrest of Magistrate, Councilman and City Employe.

ONE TURNS IN RESIGNATION

Mayor Hays will receive from Safety Director Moore this morning the report of a rough house episode in which the actors were Police Magistrate J. J. Kirby, Select Councilman P. B. Kearns of the Tenth ward, Edward Keenan, a clerk in the bureau of surveys, and a wagonload of policemen. Keenan tendered his resignation to Director Bigelow, in whose department he is employed, yesterday morning, and it was promptly accepted.

The three men attended the Democratic convention Thursday afternoon. As that function was anything but lively, they started out to have a little fun. Securing a carriage and a fourth man they drove to 217 Second avenue, kept by Emma Mack. Here another man was added to the party.

The woman says the men had been drinking, and she refused to serve them with liquor. Thereupon one of the men tried to assault her and proceeded, as he expressed it, "to put the place on the bum." The men began to smash mirrors and break furniture.

The woman summoned the policeman on the beat. He recognized the politicians and decided to send for Capt. Bartley. When the latter arrived at the house he tried to get the men out, but they refused to listen to him and he was compelled to send for a patrol wagon and the reserve officers.

It required five policemen to put Magistrate Kirby in the patrol wagon. One of the party escaped, but the others were taken to the Central station. While in the wagon Magistrate Kirby kicked Wagonman Robert Holmes in the stomach and Keenan struck him in the face. The policemen were compelled to resort to forcible methods with Kirby, and as a result he had to be taken to the Homeopathic hospital to have his wounds dressed. Later the men got out on forfeits.

While in their cells one of the party asked Supt. Wallace his reason for not arresting Emma Mack and the other inmates of the house. To this Wallace replied:

"There is no reason why the women should be arrested. You fellows could not act like gentlemen, and that is the reason you are here. Because one of you is a police magistrate and the other a councilman you are not privileged to clean out a house and beat up women. You broke the law and you are no better than anybody else."

The men did not appear at the hearing yesterday morning, and their forfeits will be turned into the city treasury.

FAST RIDE IS EXPENSIVE.

William K. Vanderbilt's Chauffeur Is Fined One Hundred Dollars for Violating a Speed Law.

NEW YORK, May 19.—(Special.)—Henri de Bailleur, chauffeur for William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., was fined $100 in the court of special sessions today for violation of the speed laws. He paid the fine from a large roll of bills.

De Bailleur was arrested in Broadway for running an automobile at the rate of 40 miles an hour. He said the machine could not go less than 30 miles an hour, and gave the same excuse when he pleaded guilty to the charge today. Deputy Assistant District Attorney Lockwood, who prosecuted the case, told the justices that De Bailleur had been arrested three times and had once paid a fine of $25.

BOATS GETTING BACK.

Harbor Will Be Filled With Empty Craft by Middle of Next Week.

By the middle of next week the Pittsburgh harbor will again be filled with empty craft. The Henry Lourie arrived yesterday from Cincinnati with a big tow. She is the first in. Others will get into port about Monday.

The John and James Moren, with their tows, arrived at Louisville at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. They were followed by the Ed Roberts. Raymond Horner and Josh Cook. The Sprague gathered a big fleet from the tows of those Louis and started for New Orleans.

The Greenland from Charleston; the Lorena from Zanesville, and the Columbia from Morgantown, got in yesterday with big trips. The down river boats brought about 2,000 cases of eggs. Next week the Lorena will bring a party of 25 Columbus people who are making the round trip.

Capt. A. S. Mackey, secretary of the Masters & Pilots association, is sending out notices of the meeting June 5, at which officers will be nominated for the annual election, to take place June 19.

The Virginia will be in from Cincinnati this morning and will leave again at 4 o'clock. The Queen City will get in Monday.

Boats out yesterday were the Columbia for Morgantown and the Greenland for Charleston. Boats out today are the Rose Hite for Morgantown, Lorena for Zanesville and Virginia for Cincinnati.

An orchestra has been placed on the Greenland for the rest of the summer. The Kanawha river trip has become a popular excursion with Pittsburgh people.

Bids for building and erecting two pairs of steel lock gates and anchorages at Lock No. 2, in the Allegheny river, were opened yesterday in the office of the government engineer. The Penn Bridge Company of Beaver Falls bid $12,400, and the American Bridge Company $13,800. The contract will be awarded from Washington.

WAINWRIGHT AND MOORE HAVE TILT

Director and Councilman Clash Over Eighteenth Ward Engine House Site.

SELECT COUNCIL IS CALLED

A special meeting of select council has been called for next Wednesday afternoon to put through a number of bills which the administration failed to pass at the regular session last Monday, and also to pass the combustible ordinance which has been pending in select council for several weeks.

Among the measures held up at the last meeting, which the administration will again try to pass next week, is the ordinance authorizing the purchase of two lots in Stanton avenue, at Hawthorne street, Eighteenth ward, for an engine house site. This ordinance was sent to a special committee through the effort of Select Councilman Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., of the Eighteenth ward, who is opposed to the purchase of the site because he wants the engine house in the Morningside district, a different part of the ward.

The dispute over this site resulted in a scrappy exchange of personalities between Director Moore and Councilman Wainwright at the meeting of the special committee yesterday afternoon in the city clerk's office. Director Moore was particularly angry at Mr. Wainwright, and did not attempt to conceal the resentment of the "bump" which the members of select council administered to him last Monday to favor Mr. Wainwright.

Moore Angry at Wainwright.

The members of the special committee are L. H. Frederick, C. H. West and Mr. Wainwright. Mr. Wainwright was in the minority, Messrs. West and Frederick going along with the administration.

The committee and Director Moore were viewing a plot in the Eighteenth ward and discussing the sites suggested. A dispute arose as to the elevation of the Stanton avenue site.

"If Mr. Wainwright says that this site is higher than the Schenley property, he does not know what he is talking about," asserted Director Moore.

"I have been all over the ground, and I say that I do know what I am talking about," replied Mr. Wainwright warmly.

"I say that you don't," retorted the director.

Again Director Moore declared that he had said all he was going to say to the committee, and Mr. Wainwright suggested, "We will excuse you, if you wish."

"I don't ask any excuses from you," exclaimed Mr. Moore, angrier than ever. He started to leave, declaring that the selection of an engine house site had been held up for a year for Mr. Wainwright.

Contradict Each Other.

"I say that it was not held up for me," said Mr. Wainwright.

"I say that it was," returned the director.

"You don't know what you are talking about," said Mr. Wainwright.

During the discussion Mr. Wainwright said he was not insisting upon the purchase of the Chislett street site, and suggested that a site be found at the head of Martha street. He insisted the engine house should be placed in the Morningside district because it is the more populous and rapidly growing. Mr. West favored the Stanton avenue site because it is nearer the Nineteenth ward, which he represents. Mr. Frederick sided with Director Moore.

The majority of the committee argued that an engine could go down hill from Stanton avenue to a fire better than it could go up hill to the Stanton avenue district from Morningside. Mr. Wainwright said the Stanton avenue district was near the Garfield pumping station, and that an engine was not absolutely needed there because there was always a pressure of 80 to 100 pounds in the water mains.

Fight Goes to Select.

Director Moore indignantly declared he did not propose to depend upon a pipline pressure, and that he intended putting an engine and not a hose carriage in the new house.

The dispute was finally ended by Mr. West moving to report the Stanton avenue site favorably to councils, and this was adopted, Mr. Wainwright alone voting in the negative.

A lively fight over this ordinance promises to be made next week in select council. Another of the objections raised by Mr. Wainwright to the Stanton avenue proposition was that Director Moore proposes to buy two lots, when only one is necessary, and that the price of the property is too high. Mr. Moore said the owners would not sell only one lot, and he was considering the best location and not the price.

M'KEESPORT HOME YIELDS THIEVES RICH BOOTY

Robbers entered the residence of Thomas Bedell, a McKeesport merchant, Thursday afternoon while Mrs. Bedell was witnessing a performance of a wild west show, and got away with several hundred dollars' worth of diamonds and a bracelet made of $5 gold pieces. The jewelry was especially valued by Mrs. Bedell, as it included may wedding presents. A diamond brooch and a diamond ring, several stick pins and the bracelet were stolen. The loss is placed at $800.

Deliver Markers Only in Bulk.

The county commissioners have directed that all orders received from committees and representatives of Grand Army posts for markers for graves of soldiers of the civil war are to be delivered in bulk to such representatives. The duty of placing the markers or distributing the same to individuals will devolve upon the members of posts, and any persons desiring single markers should call upon any representative of the post nearest the cemetery where soldiers are buried, and they will have no difficulty in securing markers.

Jacksons $15 Suits

FOR MEN WOULD COST YOU $18 TO $20 ELSEWHERE

That is to say, as good would cost you that in other stores. We'd like you to compare our $15 suits with the best you can find elsewhere at $20. Make the comparison as thorough as you please.

Note the quality of the clothes, the character of the workmanship, the linings and trimmings, the fit and the general tone of the garments—and the chances are 10 to 1 in favor of the Jackson product.

That's because we are manufacturers and don't have to depend upon other makers. We see to it that every garment we turn out is invested with distinguishing marks of merit, with the attributes of custom tailoring.

No other store in Greater Pittsburgh can afford to sell suits as good as ours for the same money. The difference in price is the difference between buying direct from the manufacturer (as you do when you buy from us) or of buying from the retailer, who must add his profit to the manufacturer's prices. It's the same with our $12 suits, with our $18 suits—and with the Jackson Clothing at every price—every garment is fully 25 to 30 per cent below what other stores must charge.

$15

OUR $15.00 LINE OF MEN'S SUITS COMPREHENDS ABOUT 40 DISTINCT STYLES, A CHOICE WHICH AFFORDS EVERY MAN MOST SATISFACTORY SELECTION.

THEY'RE ALL HAND-TAILORED THROUGHOUT, MADE WITH BROAD SHOULDERS, NON-BREAKABLE FRONTS AND HAND-WORKED BUTTONHOLES.

$15

Of this you may be certain—Be the method what it may, "time honored or modern," we will not grant it possible to tailor a suit with more character and distinctiveness than find expression in a $15 garment which the Jackson "Match Us If You Can" label identifies.

GIANTS TURN THE TABLES ON THE PIRATES

THE SECOND GAME GOES TO GIANTS

Robertaille Weakens in Eight Inning—McGraw and Dahlen Abuse the Umpire.

CLANCY SLUGS THE BALL

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 19.—Getting back at Pittsburgh for yesterday's drubbing the Giant's this afternoon defeated Clarke's cracks 7 to 1, in a game which, like the first of the series, until near the close was so close the players almost stepped on one another. "Mugsy" McGraw was so sore over thetrimming Leever & Co. gave the champions Thursday that he could not keep his jaw off the umpire. This time Bob Emslie got such a lamming it was a wonder the official arbiter stood for it.

That was over Dahlen's amateurish strikeout in the seventh. "Bad Bill" growled like an infant in the kindergarten class of a foundling asylum, and then McGraw stepped under the spot light. McGraw and Dahlen growled at Emslie victously as a couple of cats on a back fence. It looked at times as if they were going to assault the umpire. But the crowd, which first hissed, finally turned on the locals and guyed McGraw so unmercifully that the scrappy manager thought better of it, and "Bad Bill" slunk back to the bench. Dahlen hanled another lot of sass to Emslie at the beginning of the eighth, but Bob bore it with becoming meekness. It's wonderful what umpires submit to on the Polo grounds.

The feature plays were pulled off by Howard, Clarke, Wagner and Browne, all four going after difficult plays and making sensational catches. Clancy led for his side in batting, making four safe hits. Clarke was next with two safeties.

The visitors went out in one, two, three order in the openning inning. Clancy made a single in the second but was left. Ritchey and Leach going out on flies to right. In the third with two out Beaumont bunted foul on a third strike and was out, closing the inning. In the fourth, however, the visitors filled the corners with two out. After Howard and Wagner were disposed of, Devlin fumbled Clancy's grounder, the batter reaching first. He went to the half way station on Ritchey's clean single. Leach found Taylor easy and was passed, filling the bases.

Carisch sang the Pittsburgh rooters back to their seats by going out, Dahlen to McGann. This was the nearest the Pirates came to scoring until the seventh. Leach opened this inning with a single. Carisch was the easiest kind of an out. Robertaille, however, got a life, when Gilbert let his grounder continue to right field. Clarke followed Gilbert with a single and Leach scored the only run for his side on his captain's hit.

Robertaille restricted the McGrawites to five hits in the first seven innings. They bunched three in the breakaway for one run and two in the fifth for another. In the eighth after Gilbert had raised Ritchey, the Pittsburgh twirler let down. Taylor, who had delighted the fans in the middle inning with a double to right, lifted them off their feet in the seventh with a triple to left. It looked as if oRbertaille purposely passed Donlin, figuring on a double play. But there was no chance for berle in the infield.

Taylor scored on Browne's single through short. Donlin followed Taylor on McGann's one-sacker to right. Browne registered on Bresnahan's safety to center. Mertes fouled to Carrisch, who made a fine running catch against the right grand stand, but who hurled so high over Leach's head to head off Mertes at third that both McGann and Bresnahan scored on the error. Dahlen then followed with what looked like a three-bagger that fell close to the left field bleachers, but Clarke, after a marvelous burst of speed, picked it off the ground and turned a somersault with it, coming up with the ball in his finger tips.

Carisch in the ninth fanned, Clymer batting for Robertaille, died at first by a close shave throw. Clarke reached first on a pass. Then Beaumont, up for the ninth time thus far in the series, popped to Gilbert. Ginger has not reached first in his nine times at bat on the Polo grounds.

Clymer, Phillippe and Hildebrand took part in the preliminary practice. The deacon's sore arm is rounding to nicely, but it is doubtful if he will try his wing against McGraw's leaders. The score:

TIPTOE IS WINNER OF GAYETY STAKES

Was Heavily Laden and Gives Away Weight to Enter Field—Horses Race on a Slow Track.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 19.—Tiptoe carrying 122 pounds and conceding weight to the entire field today, won the Gayety stakes at Belmont park. Tiptoe and Bivouac were coupled as the Belmont entry and closed favorite at 15 to 20. Tiptoe made the running all the way, but had to be ridden out at the finish to win by a head from Belle of Pequest. De Rezske, winner of the fifth race, was bid up to $2,500. The stable bid an extra $25 and kept its horse. The weather was fine, but the track was still slow. Summaries:

First race, 7 furlongs, main course—Adbell, 123, J. Smith, 9 to 1 and 9 to 5, won; Druid, 107, Lyne, 18 to 5 and 4 to 5, second; Dreamer, 108, Shaw, 9 to 10 and 1 to 3, third. Time, 1:30. Comet also ran.

EVEN SPLIT IN DOUBLE-HEADER

Detroit and Washington Teams Take One Game Each in First Double Event.

PITCHER IS POUNDED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DETROIT, May 19.—Detroit and Washington broke even in the first American league double-header of the season. In the first game, Kitson was always effective and the Washingtons were at his mercy. The locals bunched four hits with two bases on balls in the second inning, winning there and knocking Hughes out. In the second game Mullen was wild and easy to hit. Jacobsen was a puzzle all through. Fly catches by Cooley and Huelsman and the base-running of Stahl and Cassidy were features. Attendance 4,000. The scores.

Cleveland 11—Boston 4.

CLEVELAND, May 19.—Cleveland had no difficulty in defeating Boston in the only game of the series that the two teams were able to play. Tannehill was all at hard throughout the game and received miserable support. On the other hand Hess pitched steadily with men on bases except in the ninth inning and received good support. Jackson of Cleveland was hit by a fly ball in the face in the "sun field" prior to the game and was unable to play. The bus carrying the Boston players to the grounds was struck by a street car at Euclid and Dunham avenues. The players were badly shaken up by the collision, but none was seriously hurt. CHICAGO, May 19.—Chicago took the last game of the series from Philadelphia today 2 to 1. Altrock pitched in fine form, allowing but four men to get on base. A single, an error by Green and a double in the sixth inning was the means by which Philadelphia saved a shutout. A running catch by Jones was the feature of the game. Attendance 4,269. The score:

CITY OWNS LAND WHEN ACT PASSES

Judge Macfarlane Decides Important Point in Diamond Street Case.

GIPSY QUEEN IS ACQUITTED

In the case of A. W. Mellon against the city of Pittsburgh for damages to his property, through the widening of Diamond street, Judge Macfarlane decided that damages must be computed on the date of the ordinance and not from the time the street was actually widened. The passage of the ordinance actually gave the city possession and the value of the property must be considered at that date and not several years later, when the property had naturally increased in value.

The case is an appeal of Mr. Mellon from the award of the viewers, which gave him $75,000 on his property at Diamond and Wood streets. He claims the pieces was worth at least $150,000.

Testimony by plaintiff's witnesses as to property values shows that the property was greatly damaged by reason of there being but 17 feet left upon which it is impossible to erect a high building and making the property less desirable and harder to sell. Samuel W. Black, a real estate man, gave as his opinion that the widening of the street did not increase the value of the property for the project had been talked of for 15 years and property values were placed high accordingly. The case will be resumed on Monday, the plaintiff's testimony not being all in.

Frank Hamrock, Jr., one of those injured in the fall of an elevator in the Donnelly building, 1026 Fifth avenue, two years ago, has filed a suit for $20,000 damages against Charles Donnelly, the owner of the building. Hamrock claims to be permanently injured, his arm and hand being paralyzed.

Gypsy Queen Is Acquitted.

The jury in the case of Rosey Morgan and Elwell and Thomas Ross, charged with stealing $3,200 from Dina Morgan, mother-in-law of the girl, returned a verdict of acquittal in criminal court before Judge Robert S. Frazer. Owing to the fact that the Morgans are gypsies and the court room was crowded during the trial with the swarthy-cheeked nomads, the case attracted more than the usual amount of attention.

Samuel F. Nixon filed an answer to the equity suit brought by the Allegheny County Light Company, an action to compel him to carry out a contract for lighting the Nixon theater. Nixon claims that the property is not under his control but under that of the Nixon Realty Company, and claims that the light company has suffered no irreparable damage and is not in need of equitable relief. He alleges that the electric light service furnished the theater was so poor that frequently the lights would be shut off during a performance, thereby endangering the lives of the patrons and destroying the business carried on. He claims that because of this a private electric lighting plant was installed and the service of the plaintiff company discontinued.

In criminal court Salardo Campoli, Corsetta Campoli and Otelia Campoli, Italian grocers who formerly had a store in Wabash avenue, West End, were convicted on a charge of conspiracy, made by F. Santoni, a wholesale grocer in Seventh avenue. The three defendants, it is claimed, entered into a conspiracy by which they defrauded Santoni out of a quantity of goods.

Enters Plea of No Defense.

Odell Mathews, colored, entered a plea of no defense to a charge of felony made by Bowman F. Scott. Mathews attacked Annie Burrell, a 13-year-old granddaughter of the prosecutor.

A verdict for the plaintiff for $3,150 was rendered in United States circuit court in the case of the Cascade Foundry Company of Erie against the L. J. Mueller Furnace Company of Milwaukee. The action was brought to recover damages on an alleged broken contract.

Judge R. W. Archibald granted a nonsuit against the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company in their suit against the Northern Central Life Insurance Company of Ohio. The case grew out of the purchase of the business of the Ohio concern by the local company, in which alleged false representations concerning certain insurance policies were made. Damages had been asked amounting to $14,000.

A temporary injunction has been granted by common pleas court No. 1 at the suit of Mr. Kinsley Griffith and Frederick Gregg, restraining Robert and Ida Kennedy from taking possession of a spring at Brackenridge. The plaintiffs carry on a trade of supplying drinking water. They say the spring is on land which has been fenced for 8 years, that Kennedy never disputed the property lines until recently, when he gave notice of an intention to take possession.

Leave a Joint Will.

The joint will of Adam Schreiber and wife of Allegheny provides that an estate of $20,000 shall go to the survivor. At the death of the survivor, $4,000 is given to a daughter, Helena, and the residue to a son, Henry Schreiber.

Executions issued: George E. Hemphill vs. James G. McClean, $844 90; E. R. Edmundson vs. E. G. Scholze, Jr., $106 55; I. C. Le Fevre vs. D. A. Snyder, $542 79; Ida E. Edmundson vs. Samuel Dunseith, $1,723 68; Reynolds Lumber Company vs. P. Poorbaugh and Edwin C. Haslett, $216 60; George S. Knox vs. A. C. Fahnestock, $500; Thomas Laury vs. Mary and William Laury, $525; Keystone State Building and Loan association vs. John T. Stewart, $1,539 42; same vs. Paul Gornis, $2,676 13; same vs. Lydia A. Truxall, $2,354 24; same vs. John H. Dailey, $2,555 12; same vs. Robert L. Hickman, $1,025 96; W. S. Russell vs. Emma J. and Archibald Kerr, $2,100; Martha M. THREE TRAGIC DEATHS.

Express Trains Kill Two Men and Another Dies by Trolley.

Benjamin McConnell, aged 60, of Osborne station, last evening was killed by an express train on the Ft. Wayne railroad at Haysville station. He was walking to his home when run down.

Edward Orndick, aged 9, of 75 High street, Allegheny, died at the Allegheny General hospital yesterday from injuries received Thursday by being run down by a Spring Garden avenue street car near his home.

R. A. Klein, aged 25, of Braeburn station, was killed by a train on the Allegheny Valley railroad at Verona yesterday. He attempted to board a passenger train, missed his footing and fell under the wheels.

HAYES FACTION OUSTED.

Court Issues a Restraining Order Against Officers of the Knights of Labor.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Associate Justice Anderson of the supreme court of the District of Columbia today issued an order temporarily enjoining John W. Hayes and his associates claiming to be officers of the order of Knights of Labor from performing the duties of such office.

The order restrains Hayes and his companions "from claiming to be or acting or holding themselves out as officers of the general assembly of the order of the Knights of Labor." Among other acts specifically enjoined is that of receiving the mail of the organization.

PASTOR CHARGES FIVE MEMBERS WITH CONSPIRACY

Five members of the St. Ann's Syrian Catholic church, at Fulton and Gilmore streets, were committed to jail last night in default of $500 bail each by Alderman John Martin, on charges of conspiracy preferred by their pastor, the Rev. Father N. Sifontawry. The arrests were the result of a series of quarrels that have been in progress between the pastor and members of his congregation.

Similar trouble arose in the church about a year ago, when the pastor officiating at that time was transferred to another parish as a result of the squabble.

Murder Suspect Caught.

NEW CASTLE, May 19.—It is believed by the New Castle police that they have in the jail here the man who murdered Police Sergeant James Skidmore last Sunday morning in Erie. The man who killed Skidmore is described as having red hair, of middle height and about 25 years old. The men here answers that description.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—(Special.)—Orders have been given by President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to have the low grade line completed by January. When this line is completed the company will virtually have a new freight road from [illegible] Glen [illegible] one exception of that portion of the main lines which is used between Petersburg and Marysville.

POLICE BREAK UP TWO NEAT GAMES

Men Who Were Collecting for Supposed Bogus Scheme Are Placed Under Arrest.

INSURANCE MEN ARE VICTIMS

J. J. Fay and C. F. Stewart of Brooklyn were arrested yesterday by Detectives Rice and Shore at Diamond and Wood streets, and when taken to the Central station confessed to victimizing a number of prominent business men of this city. They were soliciting money for a club house and library for the "Citizens League of Improvement." They had $600 on them when searched, most of which they secured here.

Word was sent to the detective bureau at noon saying two men had been visiting officials of several banks and were collecting money on what was suspected to be a bogus scheme. The entire force was sent out in search of the men. Detectives Shore and Rice notified all the downtown banks to watch for the men, and at a Diamond street bank it was found two men answering the description of the suspects were to return there to interview an official.

The officers waited outside and finally saw two men coming out of a cafe in Diamond street. When the men entered the bank the officers noticed one of them wore a white vest, as was given in the description. At one of the banks they visited a director's meeting was in progress. The men were ushered before the board and secured some money.

In leaving the place Stewart picked up a directors' hat, size 7⅜, by mistake. In talking to the men Detective Rice noticed that one of the men had a large head and inquired what size hat he wore. Stewart replied 7⅜. Further questioning convinced the officers they had the right men and took them to the station house.

The men had a letter of recommendation alleged to have been written by J. F. O'Neil of the sheriff's office. Investigation showed there was no person in the sheriff's office by that name. The men told the bankers they wanted to have the clubhouse and library by Decoration day.

There is no such organization in the city as the "Citizens League of Improvement." Information will be made against the men this morning, charging them with receiving money under false pretense.

Virgil Murphy, aged 17, Booneville, Mo., was arrested by Detectives Leff and Aymer, at his lodging house, Wylie avenue and Tunnel street, yesterday evening as a suspicious person. It is said Murphy called upon several insurance companies and, representing himself as a solicitor, would seek employment. If successful he would request an advance of $20 or $25, and after receiving it would disappear. From letters and papers found in his possession, the police believe he has a confederate in St. Louis and that the two men have been systematically working the insurance companies in several cities.

Murphy, it is declared would refer to his pal in St. Louis when asked for references and the latter would write the prospective employer in the most glowing terms as to Murphy's ability. Murphy would then do the same thing for the man in St. Louis. The prisoner had in his possession names of general agents, with suggestions as to how much they could be "touched."

CONFERENCE IS DENIED.

No Arrangements for a Settlement in Plumbers' Lockout.

A statement was issued yesterday by the Master Plumbers and also one by the National league, which contradicts the statements by the journeymen plumbers. It was reported that the Pittsburgh local of the National league was about to disband, and that a conference had been arranged for between the journeymen of the United association and the Master Plumbers.

On good authority it can be stated no settlement is in sight, although both sides are willing to effect a settlement providing it be made upon terms to suit their desires.

SELL STEEL RAILS CHEAPER ABROAD

E. H. Gary Testifies Before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

HEARNE OPPOSES NEW LAW

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19

E. H. Garey, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation; F. J. Hearne, president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company; J. Kruttschmitt, vice president of the Southern Pacific, and others, appeared before the senate committee on interstate commerce tonight. Judge Gary told the committee that in some instances the Steel Corporation sold its products cheaper abroad than in this country. The last sale of steel rails in Canada was made at $6 a ton less than the price in the United States. Judge Gary said products were sold abroad at cost or less in order to keep mills running to their full capacity, and this cheapens the cost to the domestic buyer. Judge Gary asserted that the Steel Corporation was paid no rebates and had no complaints to make regarding terminal charges or freight rates.

Mr. Hearne stated rebates and discriminations had stopped since the passage of the Elkins law. He was opposed to conferring rate-making powers on the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Hearne denied that any rebates were granted his company by the Santa Fe road and said that his company received only the price of the coal after freight charges had been deducted by the Santa Fe.

The testimony of Judson C. Clements, member of the interstate commerce commission, consumed so much of today's session that the senate committee decided to hold an evening session. There is some talk of holding night hearings from now until the close of the investigation. So far no date has been set for the adjournment of the committee, but the members are anxious to get away from Washington as soon as possible.

Commissioner Clements devoted most of his efforts in a defense of the interstate commerce commission, replying at length to the charge that the commission had been endeavoring to secure more power. He insisted that the commission had only been following the lines laid down by the law under which it was organized.

"I take it," said Mr. Clements, "that it is the duty of the commission not only to investigate cases presented by shippers, but also to suggest such additional legislation as will increase the efficiency of the commission."

The commission, he said, had for 10 years made recommendations for amendment of the law, but the railroad men had paid no attention to the matter until the president had recommended such amendment. "Why," he asked, "did not these men attack the president, Secretary Taft, Representative Williams and Mr. Bryan," all of whom, he said, were advocating the legislation, instead of arraigning the commission?

RESIGNED THREE WEEKS AGO.

J. W. Patterson Offered to Quit Wabash to Clear Path for Delano.

In regard to his resignation as vice president of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company, J. W. Patterson, Sr., said yesterday:

"On April 24 last, I placed in the hands of Mr. Gould my resignation. This was done that neither Mr. Gould nor Mr. Delano should be under any embarrassment so far as I was concerned. I have heard nothing from it since. My relations with both these gentlemen have been very pleasant and I have no reason to complain of the treatment received at their hands. Where the information published in the morning papers came from I do not know."

Until the meeting of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal board, on June 8, no decision can be made in the matter of the proffered resignation.

BEGINS BUSINESS SESSION.

Pittsburgh Division of General Synod of Lutheran Church Recommends Enlarged Seminary Courses in English.

The first business session of the 10th annual conference of the Pittsburgh division of the general synod of the Lutheran church opened yesterday morning in St. Peter's church, Allegheny, with Moderator C. Loss of Millvale presiding.

Following the annual sermon by the moderator, which showed a healthy condition in the organization, the congregations of St. John's, Lowell, O.; Trinity, Dorseyville, Pa., and St. John's, Sharpsburg, were admitted into membership. The committee on standing of the synod reported expenditures of $662,991.10 in 1904 for new churches and church debts; running expenses of congregations of $778,815, and church extension and mission work, $115,029.81; aggregating $1,586,834.

It was decided that all districts in the synod elect representatives to the National Federation of Christian Workers convention, to be held in New York from November 15 to 20. Resolutions were passed recommending that the courses in English be enlarged upon in the two seminaries of the church owing to the growing demand for English services. The evening session was devoted to devotional services.

Westinghouse Issues Statement Regarding Air Brake Devices

In speaking of the visit of the members of the international railway congress to Pittsburgh and the experiments made with a train of 50 steel cars fitted with an improved air-brake and other safety devices, first drawn by a heavy steam locomotive and then by an electric locomotive operated by a single-phase alternating current, Mr. Westinghouse said:

"The apparatus had been prepared for the purpose of illustrating to the delegates and to the railway managers of the United States, who are soon to be especially invited to witness similar tests, how accidents involving loss of life and destruction of property can be avoided. The act of congress in relation to the use of automatic couplings and airbrakes upon locomotives and cars engaged in interstate commerce was passed at a time when there had been little or no experience in the operation of brakes upon long trains, and when trains of over 50 cars were unusual. The advent of heavy locomotives and of steel cars has led, however, to a great increase in the weight and length of trains and has made a reconsideration of the whole subject necessary, if not imperative. The special train experimented with consisted of 50 modern steel cars fitted with automatic couplers having a friction device incorporated in the draft gear of each car, capable of absorbing an immense amount of momentum which would otherwise be very destructive to the car frames. The couplings of these cars were also fitted with a device which automatically couples the airbrake pipes at the same time that the couplings themselves are united, while also the handles of the stop cocks of the airbrake pipe are so arranged that they can be operated from either side of the train, in order that employes need no longer be required to go between the cars for the operation of either the car couplings or airbrake couplings. The triple valves used upon these cars have been perfected after many years of experimentation. By their use the brakes upon the last car of the longest train are set almost as quickly for ordinary service stops as in the case of an emergency application. The improvements in these triple valves may be said to be as important, with reference to the airbrake art of today as were the earlier improvements whereby the brakes were made to act automatically in the event of the breaking in two of a train or the bursting of a hose pipe. Fortunately, these improvements do not involve the throwing away of valuable apparatus already in use, since the present standard Westinghouse triple valves may be altered to the new form. At the tests made for the European delegates it was shown that it was impossible for the engineer with the heaviest locomotive, by any effort he could make, to break the train in two. It was also shown that a train of 50 cars, running at a speed of 20 miles an hour, could be stopped within a few car lengths without shocks or disturbances of any character. With any train, whatever its length, fitted with the friction draft gear, it will be impossible for an accident to happen from the bursting of a hose in the middle of the train, as is the case if cars are not fitted with air brakes. The friction device referred to has been adopted by the Pennsylvania railroad and is being applied to all of its new cars and to the cars of many other roads, and already over 120,000 cars have been thus fitted. In addition to the improvements in the brake apparatus of the freight cars, others of a most radical and important character have been made in the brake apparatus for the equipment of passenger trains, which will result in reducing the distance for stopping high-speed trains from 25 to 40 per cent. The single-phase alternating locomotive exhibited for the first time was capable of exerting a drawbar pull of 65,000 pounds, and could have hauled 100 cars as easily as the great steam locomotive moved 50 cars. The contrast between the steam locomotive, with all of its noise, smoke and dirt, and the electric locomotive, which started the train almost without looking, was a revelation to all, was one of the most noticeable features of the exhibition. This electric locomotive was operated by current from an overhead wire no larger than that required for an ordinary street car. The electric pressure, however, was 10 times as great as that used for street car work. The locomotive in question has been designed for the purpose of assisting heavy freight trains up steep gradients on an important railroad."

SHOWS EVIDENCE OF RELIEF FROM LIQUIDATION PROCESS

Market Is Able to Offer Some Effective Resistance to the Depression Which Has Recently Been Prevailing Among the Traders.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 19.—The stock market was subjected to considerable further liquidation today, but it showed evidence of relief from the process, and offered some effective resistance to the depression. In the course of the declines the low prices reached in many cases were below those touched on the violent decline in the latter part of April. In no case was there a great extension of the loss beyond that point, and a large proportion of stocks were held above it. Professional operators in stocks are accustomed to pay great attention to such an evidence of renewed power of resistance in the neighborhood of the same level at which a decline was checked not long before. The arrest of the liquidation during the course of today for this reason proved very encouraging to the professional element. The early liquidation was large and quite urgent, and that for foreign account made up an important element in the market's weakness. It is supposed that the extension of sensational advertising methods followed in a recent campaign against stock prices in this country to the columns of foreign advertising mediums helps to explain the foreign selling, and some special pressure upon the market, attributed to a Boston origin, goes to the same source for explanation. Yesterday's violent declines had the natural effect of including calls for additional margins and collateral and the resulting effect of considerable orders to sell out. The first hour proved the most active of the day. The sharp break in the wheat market gave rise to the surmise that some of yesterday's alarm over the crops may have been unfounded or premature. This was a factor in steadying the market for stocks. There was a disposition, too, to revise yesterday's estimates of the significance of the withdrawal of the Harriman representatives from the board of directors in the Northern Pacific. More impression was caused by the fact, which was already known yesterday indeed, that the Harriman stock holdings had been voted for the new directors. An effect was produced by the report circulated during the session that a settlement had been reached of the Chicago teamsters' grievances, and the strike ended. There were evidences of renewed weakness from time to time, but good support was encountered. A marked feature of the movement toward recovery, however, was the almost total dying out of the demand before the general level of prices had quite recovered the losses. This was notably true of the United States Steel stocks, which continued a conspicuous center of depression and showed poor resiliency. There was some disposition late in the day, also, to discount a poor bank statement for tomorrow. The taking up of government deposits has involved a loss to the sub-treasury by the banks of upwards of $8,000,000, while the offsetting gain on the interior movement is estimated at only about $2,000,000. Some large changes in the loan and deposit items are probable, owing to the large financial transactions that have occurred during the week. The extreme ease of the money market today, however, precluded any serious uneasiness over the showing by the banks. The persistent weakness of the United States Steel stocks impaired the influence of the support in the rest of the market, and their decline to the lowest of the day made the closing weak.

Bonds were weak. Total sales, par value, $2,870,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

The Pittsburgh market again presented more declines than advances as the result of the day's trading in securities, but in industrial issues, with a strictly local market, the declines were not severe. Westinghouse Electric second preferred, the market for which is made in New York, was the weakest issue, showing a loss of 4½ per cent for the day. Wall street had an unsubstantial rumor that there might be a reduction in the dividend to be declared next month. More than 2,000 shares of this security were handled here, and at least a portion of the business was of an arbitrage nature, stock being bought in New York and sold here.

The second stock in point of activity was Luster Mining, more than 1,400 shares changing hands. The buying was of the "inside" variety, and the price at the close was the best of the year. Crucible Steel was in demand at 10, at which price the bulk of the sales were made. The preferred was relatively weaker than th common, for it lost 1 per cent to the latter's 8. Pittsburgh Coal common did not sell at all, and the preferred behaved very well, as a New York stock, its loss being restricted to a fraction. The United States Steels followed the New York market. Air Brake was only one-half a point lower. Pittsburgh Brewing issues were slightly lower, and so was National Fireproofing common, while the preferred was unchanged. American Sewer Pipe gained ½. In the banking group several lots of Colonial Trust changed hands at 390, a reaction of 5 points from the figure at which it held so long.

In the bond department there was a good demand for Independent Brewing 6s at 107½, and American Sewer Pipe 6s sold at 101½ and interest, both issues being unchanged.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

The absorption of Luster Mining shares continued at yesterday's high price.

Westinghouse Electric was the weakest stock on the local board.

American Sewer Pipe scored a fractional advance.

Colonial Trust came out rather freely at 390.

There was a good demand for Independent Brewing bonds.

IN WALL STREET.

It was another million-share day.

Heavy liquidation from London caused apprehension.

Crop news was more favorable.

Some very large blocks of United States Steel common and preferred were thrown on the market.

The traction group was conspicuously strong.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The only piece of gossip which accompanied the severe decline in Westinghouse Electric second preferred in New York was a rumor that the dividend would likely be reduced next month. No confirmation of such a probability could be obtained in Pittsburgh. Inquiry after the close of the market elicited the information that the works at East Pittsburgh were never busier in the company's history.

"We firmly believe the Erie stocks should be bought right now; the future of this property is wonderful," wired a Wall street house.

The bank statement is expected to make an unfavorable showing, but the money market remained undisturbed, call loans being made at 2¼@2½.

A Chicago dispatch says: "I don't think the dear public will take the load of wheat our professionals have. The shorts were well run in yesterday. Would sell wheat now and sell more on any bulge while the weather keeps good."

The West Penn Railways Company has recently established a commercial department for the purpose of extending its light and power business, having the same in charge of a competent man lately with the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey. The company is pushing strenuously for new business, especially after the power for hauling at coal mines. The increase of 1905 over 1904 is claimed to show the wisdom of having established this department.

The Allegheny Heating Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 4 per cent, payable May 25, to stockholders of record of May 20, 1905.

The board of governors of Pittsburgh chapter, American Institute of Bank Clerks, has elected 108 new members, swelling the membership to 675.

N. R. Evans has been elected a member of the finance committee of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, vice H. C. Wettengel, resigned.

The San Francisco Examiner says: "A new $50,000,000 blanket mortgage is about to be issued by the Western Pacific railroad in place of an old one, for that amount which has been canceled at the request of the bankers who are to take the bonds thereby secured. It is further said that these bonds have been disposed of at 90."

The balance sheet of the Lake Shore as of March 31, shows "other investments" to have decreased from $7,293,422 on that date in 1904 to $458,661 at present. The sale of 79,000 shares of Reading common accounts for only $2,900,000 of the most of this decrease, leaving the inference that other holdings have also been disposed of.

Negotiations by the North Butte Mining Company of Montana for the purchase of several additional mines near the Speculator group have been practically closed.

The American Tobacco Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent on the common stock, payable June 1. Books close May 19 and reopen June 2.

It is understood that the National Carbon Company directors will meet during the first week in June to consider the matter of further dividends on the common stock. There is talk of another disbursement of 1½ per cent, the same as was made in January last. This would put the stock on a 3 per cent basis.

The directors of the Imperial Bank of Canada have decided upon the issue of the remaining $1,000,000 of authorized capital. The shares will be allotted to shareholders as on June 30 next pro rata and at a premium of 100 per cent. The instalments will be payable at intervals extending over the next 17 months. The paid-up capital will thus be increased from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000, and the rest by the same amount, the rest at present being equal to the paid-up capital. The last sale of Imperial bank stock on the exchange was at 240. The allotment of one share of new issue to three of present issue will make rights worth $10 per share.

The Fourth National bank has declared the usual semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, payable today.

The stock of the Vandergrift Land and Improvement Company has been listed at the Pittsburgh stock exchange. The object of the company is the purchase and sale of real estate, and it was organized July 20, 1865. Quarterly dividends of 1¾ per cent are paid. The capital is $550,000, $10 par, full paid; surplus, $7,853. No floating debt and no bonds. The principal office is at Vandergrift, Pa.; transfer office, Pittsburgh; certificates registered at the Pittsburgh Trust Company. Officers are: R. W. Pargny, president; S. A. Davis, vice president; Joseph Murphy, secretary; H. W. Pratt, treasurer. Directors, R. W. Pargny, S. A. Davis, George G. McMurtry, W. B. Rhodes and Joseph Murphy. The company owns the following companies: Vandergrift Fuel Gas Company, Vandergrift Water Company, Vandergrift Electric Light Company, Vandergrift Power Company, Vandergrift Telephone Company, Vandergrift Gas Company.

The unimproved acreage of the company is valued at $181,646; unsold lots, heights, $5,444; town, $61,072. Among its assets are United States Steel Corporation 5 per cent bonds valued at $27,937.

An application has been made to list the stock of the Atlas Zinc Company at the local exchange.

Wabash gross earnings for second week of May decreased $22,150; from July 1 the increase was $1,750,787.

Louisville & Nashville gross earnings for the second week of May increased $35,225; from July 1 increased $605,422.

Chicago Great Western gross earnings, second week of May, increased $7,772; from July 1 decreased $600,538.

Dispatches from branch offices of R. G. Dun & Co. located in the cotton belt indicate that it will require a week of favorable weather during the remainder of the season to produce another record-breaking crop, but a large yield may be secured with average conditions. In many sections there has been a reduction of about 10 per cent in acreage, although the voluntary decrease will not average that much for the entire belt, but heavy rain has retarded planting to such an extent in the southwest that further decreases may be abandoned. These reports of slow progress in parts of Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas also add to the probable loss from insects later in the season. On the other hand, conditions in Georgia and the Carolinas are particularly favorable, planting being concluded and the cotton showing a good stand.

TWENTIETH WARD SALES REPORTED

Marvin Frontage Is Sold for $45,000 and Most of It Resold.

DOWNTOWN SALE OF $125,000

The Twentieth ward furnished a refreshing spurt in real estate dealing yesterday, the total of the transactions being about $75,000. The property sold is the well-known frontage of S. E. Marvin on the north side of Dahlia street, between Ambrose and St. James street. Through the Commonwealth Real Estate Company the plot was transferred to a number of representative business men for $45,000. It has a frontage of 117 feet in Dahlia street and a depth of 321 feet along Von Lent place. The buyers have planned to divide the property into five lots, two facing in Dahlia street and three in Von Lent place, and these lots are protected by stiff building restrictions, thus assuring a very choice neighborhood. Two of the buyers of the property are Ralph Longenecker and Southard Day.

Yesterday one of the five lots was sold for Messrs. Longenecker and Hay to G. Cook Kimball through the office of Borland & Waddell and the Commonwealth for $10,974. The lot is 57.7x121 feet and faces on the north side of Dahlia street, near St. James street. The buyer intends to improve it with a high class house. Another of the five lots has been sold to an official of the Commonwealth Real Estate Company and still another to an official of the Commonwealth Trust Company. The property is in the heart of the Shadyside district, being only three minutes' walk from Shadyside station and near the Shadyside Presbyterian church. The contract has been let for the opening of Von Lent place, a 50-foot street, from Dahlia street through 321 feet to the property of James McCrea of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which fronts in Ellsworth avenue. This improvement must be completed within 60 days. In the opposite side of Dahlia street eight well-known business men bought large lots some time ago and are now erecting fine houses. Among these are Ralph Longenecker, M. B. Suydam, Howard Bidwell and Jesse Lazear.

No. 643 Liberty Brings $125,000.

Liberty avenue came into very favorable notice again with the sale of the property at 643 for $125,000. The deal was handled by A. W. Mendel and shows a profit of $25,000 on an investment of less than five months. In December J. H. Goehring bought the lot for $102,000, and he has now transferred it to Thomas Keenan. The property is on the north side of the avenue, between Seventh street and Barkers alley, and adjoins the 60-foot lot of E. H. Myers at the corner. The Goehring lot measures 20x88 feet, making the sale at the rate of $6,250 a front foot. It is improved with a three-story brick building which is rented to Charles Johnston, the commission merchant, for $1,200 a year. It is the second sale reported of property in this square this week, the other being the Craig lot at 629, which brought $123,000, or $6,000 a front foot.

Mr. Keenan's purchase of the property at this time is significant as showing the disposition of the buyers to look with favor on Liberty avenue property in that section which will be most benefited by the removal of the Pennsylvania tracks. Mr. Keenan has been uniformly successful in his purchases of downtown realty, his purchase of the lot at Fifth and Sixth avenues being especially profitable, as he has been offered more than twice what he paid for it, $1,000 a front foot for the Fifth avenue frontage. His purchase of 40 feet in Diamond street above Smithfield, now included in the Kaufmann store site, was also a profitable deal. And his recent buys in Penn avenue, near Ninth street, are bound to be good revenue producers, as both the warehouse being erected are rented in advance at good figures.

More Deals in Chatham Street.

Two more deals in Chatham street were announced yesterday, the buyer of both properties being Harry M. Norris, who bought 57 and 59 Chatham street, as published yesterday in The Gazette. Through the Burns & Reilly Real Estate Company he has now acquired the L. E. Burns lot at 63 and 65 for $20,500. The property, which is known as the old Rouman buildings, is 44x90 feet, and is improved with two frame dwellings and a brick house, which bring him a monthly rental of $94. The price on the face of the deal appears very low, but the property is encumbered with a perpetual ground rent of $112 a year, which accounts for the low figure. Mr. Norris has also secured through the same agency 61 Chatham street, owned by Max Feinberg, for $17,000. This lot is 23x96 feet, and is improved with a 10-room brick house, which rents for $75 a month. This makes a total of 121 feet of Chatham street frontage which Mr. Norris holds title to, including 57-65, inclusive. As announced yesterday, it is believed the deals are being made in the interest of some charitable institution, but no confirmation of this report could be secured.

Two Fifth Avenue Transactions.

Two sales of outer Fifth avenue property have been consummated. The F. B. Ehrsman holdings at 1327 were sold yesterday for $32,000, their reputed buyer being a prominent physician. The lot is 24x80 feet, facing on the north side of the avenue, between Logan and Stevenson streets, and is improved with a three-story brick building. The sale is at the rate of $1,333 a front foot.

M. J. Ehrenfeld negotiated the other transaction, which is the sale of 1612 Fifth avenue, for $28,750 cash. The property belonged to the John Schiller estate and was sold by John Ehrlinger, executor. It measures 20.9x120 feet, on the south side of the avenue, extending through to Ann street, and has erected on it two-story dwellings. It is reported that the buyer is J. C. Reilly. The price paid is $1,369 a front foot.

Through the Samuel W. Black Company, Rees Brothers have sold the property at 5448-5452 Second avenue, at the northwest corner of Iowa Pasquelus street, Twenty-third ward, for $30,000. The lot is 48x100 feet, with a width in the rear of 52 feet, and is improved with a three-story brick building in front and four five-room frame houses in the rear. There are three storerooms and three six-room suites in the front block. The total rental is $2,400 a year. The buyer's name is withheld.

Local Attorney Takes Title to Farm.

The deal for the old David A. McDonald farm, owned by J. Walter Hay and William D. O'Neil, at Allequippa, on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, was closed yesterday, the total consideration being $175,000. The title to the property is taken by Attorney William D. O'Neil. As this gives the sale having been negotiated by Attorney Robert Ritchie of Beaver. This is the first of the string of deals mentioned first in The Gazette six weeks ago, and which means the establishment of an immense manufacturing plant at this point. The Hay and O'Neil property adjoins Allequippa park and is the heart of the farms purchased with the exception of the Jones tract of 120 acres adjoining it. The deal for the latter farm has not been closed. The sales of several of the smaller properties have been closed this week, but the deeds are executed so skilfully that no one can get a definite idea of the real buyers. The total cost of the property bought and optioned, which extends 8.5 miles from Allequippa to West Economy, including practically all the land between the hill and the low water mark of the Ohio river, except that used by the railroad, is over $1,000,000. Persistent reports that the property is being secured for the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company have an excellent basis of fact, although they are as repeatedly denied by officials of that corporation.

Fine Home Sites in Ben Avon.

A small but choice plan of lots in Ben Avon borough is about ready for market and will be handled exclusively by Henry W. Armstrong. The property is known as the J. C. Lewis holdings and was bought last January by J. W. Cook. It includes 10.5 acres of land fronting in Dickson avenue, opposite the Church avenue. This has been divided into 58 lots, varying in width from 50 to 150 feet, and with a depth of 120 feet. These will be sold at from $1,750 to $2,000 each. All the usual city improvements will be provided, including gas and water connections and granolithic sidewalks. Church avenue is to be extended through the property and two other 50-foot streets, Ridge and Prospect, are now being graded through it at right angles to Dickson avenue. The building restrictions on the plan will be especially severe and will prohibit the erection of stores, flats or stables, and will also regulate the cost of houses to be built on the building line.

Through the office of W. J. White, Dr. S. P. [illegible] has sold to William C. McElroy 23 Crawford street, Eighth ward, for $8,000. The lot is 70x123 feet and is improved with four-story and mansard brick [illegible] which rent for $110 a month. Mr. McElroy is a large owner of property in the hill district and takes this as an investment.

LITTLE LIFE IN THE LOCAL MARKET LINES

Flour Trade Not So Brisk Because of Advanced Price. Strawberries Are Poor.

There was little life in any of the market lines yesterday. In the wholesale grocery trade there was nothing doing in the way of quotation changes. Advices from the Northwestern Miller, the flour authority, state that mills are busy, but nothing like a week or two ago, owing to the advanced prices of flour. Export trade has completely fallen off and the millers ground about 7,500 barrels less last week than the week before. The sugar and coffee markets are both a little weak but show no change in prices.

In the green goods and produce lines there was a good trade yesterday, but no price changes. Strawberries, good ones, are getting a little scarce. There are plenty of Maryland berries arriving, but they are of such poor quality they do nothing to beat down the market. The North Carolina stock coming in is in good condition.

Cheese has suffered a decided break on both Ohio and New York. The old cry of no cream has been superseded by "too much" and it is more than probable that cheese and butter will both meet decided reductions.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain yesterday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines, 12 cars hay, 18½ cars oats, 5½ cars corn, 2 cars straw, 1 car feed. Baltimore & Ohio, 3 cars hay, 3 cars oats, 1 car feed, 1 car corn. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars hay, 1 car oats.

Business in the hay and grain market is looking up decidedly. Prices have improved some, but will have to advance considerably before dealers will be anxious to do much business. The receipts are light but ample for the demand and dealers are all in better humor than they were a week or two ago.

The Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, May

TO HONOR KNOX, THE REFORMER

The 400th Anniversary of Birth of Noted Churchman Will Be Celebrated.

OTHER EVENTS IN CHURCHES

Presbyterian congregations the world over will tomorrow celebrate the 400th anniversary of the birth of John Knox, the leading figure in the Scotch reformation of the sixteenth century. Presbyterian clergymen in all churches will devote at least one of their sermons to the great reformer, in accord with a special request to that effect issued from the general assembly now meeting at Winona Lake, Ind.

The silver jubilee of the ordination of the Rev. Father Patrick, O. M. Cap., assistant rector of St. Augustine's monastery, will be celebrated tomorrow. The jubilarian will officiate at the celebration of a solemn high mass in the morning in which several priests of the monastery will assist. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Father Cassian, O. M. Cap., director of St. Fidelis college, at Herman, Pa., after which a reception will be held.

The Very Rev. Michael Klinzing, C. P., rector of St. Paul's of the Cross monastery, South Side, will celebrate the silver anniversary of his ordination into the priesthood on Tuesday. At 10 o'clock in the morning the jubilarian will officiate at a solemn high mass. The anniversary sermon will be preached in the afternoon by the Rev. E. P. Griffin, of St. Mary's of the Mount church.

Collection for Holy See.

In response to a special request made by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Regis Canevin of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Roman Catholic church, special offerings will be taken up in Catholic churches in the diocese tomorrow for the holy see, at Rome.

The new statue of the Blessed Virgin recently presented to St. James Roman Catholic church, West End, by the Young Women's Sodality will be blessed tomorrow afternoon by the Rev. Father E. P. Griffin, rector of St. Mary's of the Mount church.

The new Methodist Protestant church at Rogersville will be dedicated tomorrow morning. The Rev. Dr. Jones of East Liverpool, will preach the sermon. In the afternoon the Rev. Dr. J. H. Lucas of Fairmont, W. Va., will conduct a platform meeting.

The Lincoln Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Lincoln avenue and Meadow street, will be reopened tomorrow. In the morning the Rev. Dr. C. W. Smith, editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, will preach, and in the evening the sermon will be by the Rev. Dr. S. P. Long of Duluth, Minn. The Rev. Dr. John L. Hillman is pastor.

The First Presbyterian church of Allegheny, Arch street, will celebrate its seventy-fifth anniversary tomorrow morning, and in the evening the eightieth anniversary of the Bible school will be observed. The principal addresses at both services will be made by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. D. S. Kennedy.

Women Will Conduct Services.

The Rev. W. R. Hotchkiss, a returned missionary from Central Africa, will deliver the annual sermon to the Young People's Missionary society in the Second United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, tomorrow morning.

Women evangelists will conduct services morning, afternoon and evening tomorrow at a rally to be held by the ladies of St. Paul's African Methodist Episcopal church, South Side. Mrs. H. Burkett will be chairlady and services will be conducted by Mrs. R. Aldridge, Mrs. E. Raymer and Mrs. H. Solomon.

The ninety-first anniversary of the Young Men's Bible society of Allegheny county will be celebrated tomorrow evening in the Shadyside Presbyterian church, Amberson and Fifth avenues. The pastor, the Rev. J. Kingsey Smith, will deliver the anniversary sermon.

Delegates to the 12th annual convention of the State league of German Roman Catholic societies, which is to be held in St. Mary's hall, Allegheny, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, will begin arriving tomorrow. Reception committees will await delegates at all railroad stations and escort them to their quarters. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the executive committee will meet in St. Mary's hall and at 6 o'clock in the evening the bells of all German Catholic churches in the two cities will be tolled in honor of the guests. Tomorrow evening a concert will be given in Allegheny Social hall. Monday night, following the first session of the convention, a monster parade will be held through the downtown section of Allegheny.

Lutherans to Hold Spring Session.

The southern conference of the Pittsburgh synod of the general synod of the Lutheran church will hold its spring session in Christ church, Wilmerding, next Monday and Tuesday.

The quarterly convention of the Allegheny County Lutheran Sunday school association of the general synod will be held in the Church of the Redeemer, East End, on Monday evening.

Delegates to the annual denominational convention of Christian Endeavor societies of the Methodist Protestant church to be held in Muncie, Ind., from May 25 to 28 will leave Tuesday night. About 60 delegates will be sent from the Pittsburgh district. The Rev. J. C. Broomfield, pastor of the First church, East End, who is junior superintendent, will make several addresses before the convention, while the Rev. I. A. Barnes of the Second church, Fifth avenue, and the Rev. Dr. Lyman E. Davis of Sharpsburg will also address the convention. Miss M. M. Kuhns of the East End is a member of the executive committee of the national body.

Home Guards of America Meet.

NEW CASTLE, May 19.—(Special.)—The first annual convention of the Home Guards of America for the Pennsylvania district met here today. The next annual convention will be held at McKeesport, May 17 of next year. R. P. Everly of Sherrden and G. L. Boone were elected delegates to the national convention at Van Wert, O., next month. These officers were elected: Past district councilor, H. G. McClaren, Beaver Falls; councilor, George M. Boone, Washington; secretary, Mrs. Jennie Brown, McKeesport; by-laws committee, W. S. Fry, Homestead; R. P. Everly, Sherrden, and G. W. Washbaugh, Oakdale.

LOCAL NEWS OF INTEREST.

John Vojta, aged 21, died at the Municipal hospital yesterday of spotted fever. There have been seven cases of the disease in the city, all fatal.

Thieves have stolen a ton of copper wire from the Mifflin Coal Company at Dills Run. The wire was to be used as a bond on the Union railroad traction tracks.

Director Moore of the department of public safety yesterday appointed Homer E. Crooks of the Forbes street police station, a city detective to succeed Richard Kelly. Crooks has been in the police business for two years.

The Pittsburgh Construction Company has begun to build the viaduct connecting River avenue, Allegheny, with the approach to the bridge crossing the river at Herrs Island stock yards. The present approach to the bridge is from Ohio street.

The Pittsburgh Railways Company has received from Father George J. Brecel, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Milton, a check for $200, money turned over to the priest by a conscience-stricken former employe of the road who "knocked down" fares.

The wages of the flatteners employed in the factories of the American Window Glass Company were advanced 10 per cent yesterday. This rate will continue during the hot weather. The advance is given upon the understanding that the factories operate the entire summer.

The local examining board of the United States civil service commission will next Friday examine applicants for places as clerks and letter carriers for the postoffices at Carnegie, Homestead, Sewickley, Sharpsburg and McKees Rocks. Application blanks should be filed before Thursday.

Some day next week the corner stone of the addition to the Home for Aged Protestant Women in Rebecca street, Wilkinsburg, will be laid. There will be no ceremony, but articles of interest will be put under the corner stone, which will be laid by Miss Elizabeth Carter, the matron.

John Anderson, a keeper in the county jail, his son and Harry Uptegraph, who were bitten by a mad dog last week, are at the Mercy hospital undergoing the Pasteur treatment. If cured, they will be able to leave the hospital by the end of the month. Two men bitten by mad dogs were discharged from the hospital yesterday.

SOCIETY

MISS ELIZABETH BURD THOMPSON has chosen Saturday, June 17, as the date for her wedding to Edward Bliss Reed of New Haven, Conn. The marriage will be solemnized at "Castlewood," Sparkill, N. Y., the metropolitan home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Thompson of Lincoln avenue, Allegheny. The wedding will be one of unusual interest to local society and it is probable that several members from the Pittsburgh and Allegheny ranks will go east for the event. The bride-elect is a granddaughter of the late William Thaw of "Lyndhurst." Her fiance is one of the younger members of the faculty of Yale university, from which institution he was graduated in '04 and where he has been professor of English for several years. He is a son of the Rev. Dr. G. E. Reed of Holyoke, Mass., pastor of a Congregational church there. Miss Thompson is a Vassar graduate.

Mrs. Schoomaker Entertains.

Mrs. J. M. Schoonmaker of Ellsworth avenue was hostess at a beautifully-appointed bridge party yesterday afternoon at the Pittsburgh Golf club. There was no special guest of honor, but the affair was given as a farewell before the various families of the two cities scatter for the summer. Eighteen tables were called into use, and at each a beautiful Mexican basket, brought by Mrs. Schoonmaker from her recent tour of that country, was awarded as a prize. The winners were Mrs. William H. Singer, Mrs. William J. Holland, Mrs. James Wood, Mrs. William Larimer Jones, Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., Mrs. James McCrea, Mrs. Thomas Morrison Carnegie, Mrs. J. Walton Cook, Mrs. Charles Wharton, Jr., Mrs. Reuben Miller, Jr., rs. Joseph Wood, Mrs. Joseph R. Woodwell, Miss Kate C. MacKnight, Mrs. Robert G. Totten, Mrs. Moses Bedell Suydam, Mrs. Louise Beggs Sproull and Mrs. William Scott. Great clusters of gladiolias, peonies and snap dragons were used to decorate the pretty living room of the club house, which was occupied by the card tables. A dinner of six covers in the evening followed the bridge party.

Recent Bride Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. Melville Fuller Riley, a recent bride, was guest of honor at the reception given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Orlando Miller of Edgewood Park. It was conducted at the Pittsburgh Country club from 3 until 6 o'clock, during which hours the hostess and her guest of honor and Mrs. George Riley received together. They were assisted by Mrs. Alfred Reed, Mrs. M. C. Bryant, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. Charles Park Brown and Mrs. John Caldwell.

May Party to Be Held Today.

The annual May party at the Pennsylvania College for Women will be held, rain or shine, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, in charge of Miss Mary Haines Hall. After the seating and crowning of the May queen, Miss Florence Van Wagoner, the May pole dance will be given. The Swedish dance will follow, those taking part being Miss Millie Mollman, Miss Mary Stehley, Miss Rose Wiley, Miss Grace Armstrong, Miss Edna Mackrell, Miss Mary Kimball, Miss May Hardy, Miss Laura Slocum, Miss Marion Knight, Miss Louise Lafferty, Miss Agnes Reed, Miss Florence Burgoyne, Miss Florence Bicknell and Miss Marie Boyce. A flower dance will be given by Miss Bertha Schuler, Miss Elsie Bennett, Miss Elton Longenecker, Miss Carrie Longenecker, Miss Henrietta Godell, Miss Hilda Reiber and Miss Anna Munro.

Bride-Elect Has House Guest.

Miss Lana Bell of Tucson, Ariz., is the house guest of Miss Anita Converse Hoyt of Melion street, East End. Miss Bell expects to remain in Pittsburgh over the wedding of Miss Hoyt and John A. Wilson, Jr., on Wednesday, June 21. Mrs. Fred Augustus Otte and her daughter, Mrs. Harry Gibson Shaler, will entertain this afternoon at the home of the former in Linden avenue in Miss Hoyt's honor.

Recital in Conservatory Hall.

A very enjoyable probram was given last evening at the recital in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of music in Dithridge street. Miss Sue McConahy appeared in a delightful group of piano numbers, assisted by Miss Frances Casey, contralto; Miss Almira McFall, soprano, and Miss Marjorie Riley, soprano.

Give an Informal Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Lawrence of Ellsworth avenue were host and hostess at an informal little dinner of 10 covers last evening at their home, Miss John B. Hoefgen of New York, who is visiting Mrs. Edgar M. Balsinger, was guest of honor. The decorations were of yellow daisies and greens and the exquisitely dainty water-colored place cards were retained by the guests as souvenirs.

Miss Keil Will Be Hostess.

Miss Helen Keil will entertain on Tuesday evening with an informal musicale at her home in Fifth avenue, Oakland. The evening's program will be given by the new Madrigal quartet, which is composed of Miss Ruth Hay, Miss Keil, Miss Elisabeth Dorchester and Miss Abbie Carson, and their accompanist and director, Miss L. Marianne Genet. James Black, 'cellist, will assist. Although informal, the affair will be quite large and a most interesting program has been prepared.

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Coming Home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Latham Abbott of Morewood avenue and their younger daughter, Miss Jeannette Abbott, are expected home this morning from New York. The party of three has been abroad for the past several months, and came into New York aboard the Baltic on Thursday evening.

The Harkaway Hunt Dinner.

The hunt dinner and ball at the Harkaway Hunt, McDonald, for which elaborate preparations were made for last Saturday and which was postponed on account of the fatal accident to James R. Phillips, one of the board of governors of the club, will be held next Saturday. This will be one of the events of the year in hunt circles and will bring out the full contingent of those who ride to hounds. The men will be all in pink and the ladies in the costume of the hunt.

Mrs. Crump's Bridge Party.

An informal bridge party of five tables was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. W. H. Crump of Pacific avenue to meet her sister-in-law, Miss Agnes Crump, a bride-elect of June. The prizes were won by Mrs. W. N. Taylor, who will entertain for Miss Crump on June 8; Mrs. T. M. Biddle and Miss Crump, the honor guest. The prizes were dainty silk parasols.

Bridge Party of Next Week.

Mrs. Thomas Marshall, Jr., of Fifth avenue, will be one of next week's hostesses. Mrs. Marshall sent out invitations yesterday for a card party, to be given at her home on Tuesday afternoon. Bridge will be the game played.

Card Party for Visiting Girl.

Miss Mame Skinner of Chambersburg, who is visiting Miss Margaret Watson of Howe street, was guest of honor at a charmingly informal card party at which Miss Laura Platt of Wellesley avenue was hostess yesterday afternoon. Six tables were called into use, bridge being the game played.

Notes of Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy of Franks-town avenue, East End, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage last evening.

Mrs. Winfield B. Carson of Stratford avenue will give a miscellaneous shower this afternoon in honor of Miss Rachel B. Cook, whose marriage to William O. Davis will be an event of June 21.

Mrs. Alexander P. Moore of South Negley avenue will entertain with an informal 9 o'clock dance on Friday next in honor of Miss Mildred Andrews and Miss Emma Norwood Taylor, her nieces, and Miss Eva Brown.

The '04 Alumni association of the Allegheny High school will give a musical and dramatic entertainment in the Third Ward school hall, Allegheny, next Friday evening.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Appoints Chairmen of Committees.

Mrs. John H. Armstrong, the newly elected president of the Wimodausis club, announces the chairmen of committees for the year as follows:

Entertainment—Mrs. Reese Lindsay, chairman; Mrs. Samuel S. Miller, secretary; Mrs. J. R. Munford, treasurer; Mrs. Charles E. Smith, chairman of the euchre committee, and Mrs. George Goodwin, chairman of the prize committee, the last two committees being subcommittees of the general entertainment committee. The other general committees and their chairmen include: Flowers, Mrs. George F. Goodwin; playgrounds and vacation schools, Mrs. C. D. Collins; forestry, Mrs. Joseph Greenawalt; public baths, Mrs. W. H. McManus; magazines for the sick, Mrs. John A. Reed; music, Mrs. Edwin Miller; education, Mrs. George W. Gosser; clothing for the poor, Mrs. J. C. Palmer; press, Mrs. Samuel Steel; consumers league, Mrs. James A. Woodward; clubs, Miss Cora Flahavhar; juvenile court, Mrs. James S. McKelvy; charity, Mrs. Walter A. Lincoln. The entertainment committee is planning for an exceptionally enjoyable day at Luna Park on Tuesday, June 6. There will be euchre in the afternoon with music and dancing in the evening. A meeting was held yesterday when arrangements were discussed.

Hold Bazar of Days.

Among the most charming of the many outdoor entertainments anticipated for next month will be the lawn fete to be held June 20 at the Kindergarten college in Fifth avenue, Oakland. The beautiful old grounds adjoining the college will be used. The unique feature of the bazar of Days, the main attraction of the fete, it is expected will prove a great success. All housekeepers will surely be interested in booths, thus emphasizing home industries. At the Monday table, where the actual maid will be seen in the garden hanging up the clothes, one may buy the useful laundry bag and list, newly washed collars and cuffs, clothespins and aprons. At Thursday's table a general housecleaning is evidently anticipated, judging by the soap, towels, dusters, whisks and mops which will be displayed. Saturday's table, where uniformed cooks and bakers will sell home-made bread and cakes, a real oven in the background will seem to prove them genuine. Aside from these special tables, many other attractions will be offered. Judging from the preparations for supper contemplated by the chairman, Mrs. John M. Patterson, and her aids, no one need leave the grounds hungry. There will be food and hospitality and entertainment for all.

Mrs Brown Withdraws.

Mrs. Mansfield B. Brown of Sewickley, who was nominated as director of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women by the nominating committee which met in Harrisburg last week, has declined the honor. Her withdrawal from the ticket prepared by the committee is due to the illness of her daughter. Mrs. Brown was one of the two club women from Western Pennsylvania nominated on the ticket, the other being Miss Suzanne Beatty of the New Era club. Mrs. Brown was president of the Woman's club of Sewickley last year, being succeeded this year by Mrs. S. B. M. Hooker.

Plan for President's Day.

The Southern Women's society held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Hugh Pendleton Allen; first vice president, Mrs. Allison Coffin; second vice president, Mrs. Charles Hill; recording secretary, Mrs. Douglass; corresponding secretary, Miss Charlotte Price; treasurer, Mrs. Clarence Benshaw; musical director, Mrs. Anton Burchard. Three members were elected to the board of directors. They were Mrs. Henry J. Ford, Mrs. William Kesler and Mrs. William Hall.

Arrangements were made for the holding of the president's day reception, the last meeting of the society this season. It will be conducted in the Allnda Preparatory school, Fifth avenue, near Clyde street, on Thursday afternoon, June 1, at 3 o'clock. It will be a social gathering, with music and tea.

Alumni Give Entertainment.

The '04 Alumni association of the Allegheny High school has arranged a musical and dramatic entertainment to be held in the new Third ward school hall, Third and James streets, Allegheny, Friday evening, May 26. The program will be divided into two parts, the first consisting of "A Royal Runaway," a comedy in three acts. The second part will include a drill by the girls of the class, music and readings by Miss Mary L. Wallace.

ALLEGED THIEVES CAUGHT.

James and John Kelley of Beaver Falls Are Placed Under Arrest at Kittanning.

KITTANNING, May 19.—(Special.)—James and John Kelley, half brothers, giving Beaver Falls as their home, are under arrest here, charged with robbing the jewelry store of John Rupp a week ago of $264 worth of goods.

Last evening two men approached a bystander at the railroad station and offered to sell him jewelry cheap. He asked to see their goods. They took him back of the station, where he looked over the jewelry carefully and bought several pieces. He then went directly to Rupp's store, where he displayed the pieces he had bought and described the rest. The men were promptly arrested. Part of their plunder is said to have been pawned in Pittsburgh.
